RED CROSS PROTESTS ITALIAN BOMBINGS

Twelve Lost With Plane In Mediterranean

Pilot V. G. Wilson Only Person Rescued After Crash in Sea North of Alexandria of Imperial Airways' City of Khartoum, Bound From Athens to Egyptian City; Two Women Among Passengers; Two Bodies Recovered; Pilot Unable as Yet to Tell Story

London, Jan. 2.—With two bodies recovered, there was no hope to-day for any of the twelve persons who disappeared in the Mediterranean crash Tuesday of the Imperial Airways liner City of Khartoum.

LIQUOR SALES UP ONE-TENTH

Estimated British Columbians Spent $1,000,000 For Holiday Stimulants

Taking part in the general improvement in business for the holiday season, the liquor control board calculated to-day that sales all over the province for the month of December are up about 10 per cent from last year.

City Faces 1936 As Movie Centre

Schedule of Six Pictures Each Year as Long as British Quota Regulations Last Is Announced By Central Films Limited

Victoria is entering the new year with the prospects of becoming an important moving picture centre, with a production schedule of six pictures each year as long as the present British quota system lasts, and a possibility of considerable expansion, it was announced this morning by Kenneth J. Bishop, president and producer of Central Films Limited, which is making pictures here for Columbia Pictures Incorporated.

Income Tax Total Sets New Record

Canada's Figure For Fiscal Year Ending March 31 Will Be Above Highest Previous Mark

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 2.—The Canadian people are heading for a record. It concerns their ability to pay income tax to the federal treasury.

The nine passengers and three members of the crew plunged with the plane beneath the sea a few minutes short of Alexandria landing Tuesday evening, apparently with all three motors dead. The only survivor, Pilot Vernon G. Wilson, was in a critical condition to-day aboard H.M.S. Brilliant, which took him from the water.

Two women were among the passengers, all but two of whom were Britons. One was an Italian and one an American.

No report was received to-day that either of the bodies recovered had been identified.

TOO WEAK TO TALK
Pilot Wilson, who was in the water for five hours before the Brilliant found him, was too weak to be questioned as to the cause of the tragedy, the worst Imperial Airways accident in two years.

The Admiralty, however, said in a statement "the crash apparently was due to all three engines cutting out." The Imperial Airways asserted yesterday:

"Imperial Airways deeply regret their flying boat, City of Khartoum, flying from Athens, to Alexandria, yesterday, came down at sea about one and one-half miles off Alexandria and was lost. Hope must now be placed in the recovery of the bodies."

SAMUEL RYDER, LONDON, DIES

"L" Car Passengers In Narrow Escape

Inches from disaster and death, these two coaches ground to a halt after a collision on the elevated tracks in downtown Los Angeles, a near-miracle saving the passengers and car crews. With only the slightest added momentum, the cars would have plunged from the "L" to a parking lot and auto laundry below, just a short distance from one of the city's busiest intersections.

Wage Levels To Be Restored

B.C. Electric Wipes Out Pay Cuts; Other Employers Following

The depression will be officially over for employees of the B.C. Electric on January 15. The company announces that on that date its 300 employees will return to the rates of pay that existed before 1929. The head office in Vancouver has issued a blanket order of restoration.

RECEPTIONS
IN OTTAWA

Governor-General, Premier King and Mr. Bennett in New Year's Events

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—The nation's capital yesterday gave itself over to New Year's receptions perhaps to a greater extent than in previous years.

Nearly 1,000 attended the Governor-General's levee in the Hall of Fame of the Parliament Buildings and shook hands with Baron Tweedsmuir. Receptions were held also by Premier King and Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader. The Prime Minister's reception was held at Laurier House and that of Mr. Bennett at his hotel. About 1,000 attended each reception.

Receptions of the diplomatic corps were also held, including that of United States Minister Norman Armour. Charge D'Affaires Rene Turkel received at the French legation in the absence of Raymond Brugere, who sailed from France this week on his return to Canada. The Japanese Minister and Mrs. Kato received at their home.

Mining Outlook
Bright For 1936

Canada's Gold Output in 1935 Set Record at $115,798,466

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Canada's mining industry to-day surveyed two new high marks in the river of gold that has been rising across the country for the last eight years. It viewed the future with prospect of still greater achievement in 1936.

The yellow stream of wealth made new records in production and value in 1935, adding 73,313 ounces of metal to its volume and more than $13,000,000 to its value, with an output of 3,290,694 ounces worth $115,798,466. The production in 1934 was 2,972,074 ounces, its value $102,536,584.

In 1936 value of Canadian gold set the twelfth consecutive high mark. Two factors lend hope 1936 will be a greater year. The high price launched in 1933, when the United States followed Great Britain off the gold standard, has permitted owners of mines with low-grade ore to resume operations at a profit. It has also resulted in development of new mines by persons eager to take advantage of the boom in value.

The second factor lies in work done last year by the Geological Survey of Canada which sent 900 men into the field to explore and map areas in which prospects may hope to meet with success. The survey spent $1,000,000 provided by parliament as part of the appropriation under the supplementary Public Works Act.

The United States contains 207 religious bodies, with a combined membership of 62,000,000.

NO CANADIANS
GIVEN TITLES

Four New Barons in Britain Named by King at New Year

Canadian Press

London, Jan. 2.—Two of King George's sons were among those to appear in his long list of New Year honors.

The monarch also raised two barons to the rank of viscount; created four new barons, two privy councillors and four baronets. One order of merit and about four scots' knightships were conferred by His Majesty.

The second son of the King and Queen, the Duke of York, was given a triple promotion, becoming Viscount of the Fleet, Lieutenant-General in the Army, and Marshal in the Royal Air Force. The fourth son of the King and Queen, the Duke of Kent, received the Royal Victorian Chain.

After two years of inclusion, Canada again disappeared from the list. Prime Minister King, recently returned to office, was reported to have taken a stand against the inclusion of Canadians in the honors list.

Former Premier Bennett revived the practice of bestowing titles and awards on Canadians two years ago.

The Union of South Africa and the Irish Free State also are unrepresented.

Elevated to be viscounts are Baron Haughey, former Minister of the Colonies, and Baron Trenchard, former Commissioner of Metropolitan Police.

The four new peers, given their honors for "political and public services" are: Sir Arthur Shirley Bess, former chairman of the Council of the Federation of British Empire Chambers of Commerce, and until defeated in the recent general election, a Conservative member of Parliament.

Sir James Gomer Berry, a leading newspaper publisher who is associated with charitable enterprises, and Sir Thomas Siveright Catto, whose barony is regarded as recognition of his work in India as a member of the government retirement committee.

Sir Ian MacPherson, former Under-Secretary of State for War and former Chief Secretary for Ireland. The two new privy councillors are Sir Muhammad Hydar of India, an outstanding figure at the India Round Table Conference, and Sir George Rich, one of Australia's most distinguished judges.

MINISTER HONORED
An echo of difficult times in Ethiopia came with the naming of Sir Sydney Barton, British Minister at Addis Ababa, to be a Knight Grand Cross of the British Empire.

Field Marshal Sir William Chetwode, formerly commander-in-chief of the army in India, receives the Order of Merit, "for distinguished services to his country."

NEW BARONETS
No name from the Dominions is included among the four new baronets. Of sixty-four knights bachelor, thirty-four are from the United Kingdom, seven from the Dominions, eighteen from India and five from the colonies and protectorates.

The four baronets are Sir Park Goff, member of Parliament who has served on many House of Commons committees; Capt. Sir Connop Guthrie, who was representative of the United States, 1915-19; Francis Norrie-Miller, member of Parliament and prominent business man; and David Douglas Reid, member of Parliament since 1922 for County Down, Northern Ireland.

CHIEF JUSTICE HONORED
Chief Justice Frederick Richard Jordan of New South Wales becomes a knight commander of St. Michael and St. George.

C. W. Connors of Australia and George Shirlcliffe of New Zealand are made knights of the British Empire.

New knights bachelor in the Dominions are W. R. Carpenter, E. S. Cunningham, Dr. Devine, Mr. Justice H. A. Foxton and Hon. A. K. Treharne, all of Australia; James Hutchinson of New Zealand and George Johnson of Southern Rhodesia.

Among the new knights are Dr. Percy Carter Buck, King Edward Professor of Music at the University of London since 1925 and a fellow of the Royal College of Music; Dr. Arthur Haden, Emeritus Professor of Biochemistry at the University of London; Dr. Hector Hetherington, vice-chancellor of Liverpool University since 1927, who was a member of the royal commission on unemployment insurance 1930-32.

Major Humphrey Clifford, senior British commissioner in British Somaliland, is made a G.B.E. The territory under his administration borders on Ethiopia.

WOMEN HONORED
Several women were given honors in the King's list.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst, long a worker for women's suffrage, becomes a Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire. The Duchess of Abercorn, wife of the Governor of Northern Ireland, receives the same honor.

Miss Caroline Wilson, herself blind, becomes a member of the Order of the British Empire for her work among the blind.

For services in music, Miss Myra Hess, pianist who has made concert tours in Canada, is made a commander of the Order of the British Empire. That honor also goes to J. F. Marshall, director of the British Mosquito Control Institute at Hasting Island, and to Miss Olga Netherland, honorary organizer of the people's league of health.

Miss Jackson, private secretary to Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, becomes an Officer of the Order of the British Empire.

The honors list covers eighteen pages of the special supplement to The London Gazette.

London, Jan. 2.—The absence of Canadians from the New Year's honors list passed virtually unnoticed in London morning newspapers. There was no editorial comment.

The Daily Telegraph in its column "London Day by Day" alone observed: "No knightships go to Canada in the present list. Under the last Canadian Liberal Government the acceptance of honors was discouraged. Mr. Bennett (former Prime Minister) reversed this policy, but it now can be seen that Prime Minister Mackenzie King has returned to his former practice."

BRITISH TRADE IS OPTIMISTIC

Employment Total at New High Level; Unemployment Lowest Since 1930

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Jan. 2.—British trade faces the New Year cheerily. Between November 25 and December 18 the number of employed workers rose by 62,000 to 10,599,000, the highest total ever recorded.

The present total of registered unemployed, approximately 1,869,000, is the lowest since 1930. At the same time reports from industrial centres show the wheels of trade are turning with increasing speed.

The output of the steel trade reached a new high record. Four railway groups show increased earnings of approximately $5,000,000 over 1934. Leading shipping men state that 1935 closes for British shipping on a note of optimism not discernible for several years past.

EMPIRE EXPORTS RISE
Capt. Euan Wallace, Parliamentary secretary to the Department of Overseas Trade, in a New Year message to empire countries, remarked that during the first nine months of 1935 total exports of United Kingdom produce and manufactured goods increased by $23,000,000 (approximately $115,000,000) over the corresponding period of 1934, and that no less than $14,000,000 ($70,000,000) of this increase represented exports to British countries.

BRITISH INDUSTRIES FAIR
"In six weeks' time," Capt. Wallace continued, "the British Industries Fair of 1936 will open at London and Birmingham and it is noteworthy there has been an unprecedented demand for space. In it the great self-governing Dominions, India and some of the colonies and protectorates will again be represented in a composite empire section."

"In whatever part of the British Empire overseas you may live, you are the partners with us in this enterprise," he declared. "Your goods are shown extensively on the stands both directly in the empire section and indirectly in the hundreds of products displayed by United Kingdom manufacturers."

Capt. Wallace, who was appointed to his new post November 28, concluded with an appeal for support of the fair.

"I think we can claim the fair is our greatest empire shop," he says. "We are all customers in that shop, and we know the value of goods, it seems, I hope and believe that buyers from empire countries will visit the fair in 1936 in even larger numbers than in 1935. I feel justified therefore in my confidence that improvements in British trade and in empire trade will continue during the coming year."

PLAINS FARMERS
MAKE NEW HOMES

More Than 8,000 Prairie Families Establishing Themselves in North After Trekking From Southern Drought Regions

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Jan. 2. Eight thousand new homes at least are being hewn out of virgin and semi-virgin areas of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta as a sequel to five years of drought and depression.

The trek of southern farmers to escape drought and removal of city folk to farming areas under relief plans are pushing Canada's agricultural belt northward. The heavy trek is believed ended, but opening of new northern areas has just begun.

Abandonment of farms because of drought reached its greatest proportions in Saskatchewan, where 5,000 farmers are estimated by government officials to have quit their homes and headed north. Another 1,000 or more left arid belts of Manitoba and Alberta.

Land settlement schemes sponsored by provincial governments in co-operation with federal and municipal authorities as relief projects accounted for the others. In the three provinces the total from 1931 to 1935 was 2,483 families.

Manitoba placed 735 families on new land during the land settlement programmes. Alberta took 600 families from city homes and established them in agricultural areas. Saskatchewan, operating a year earlier, placed 1,088 families on land.

LIKE OLD BRIGADES
Those who gathered equipment and farm implements, packed them on wagons and trucks and journeyed north like old-time brigades of an earlier day, went without government assistance. Privations made aid necessary, but now they are "getting on their feet" again.

Families under land settlement schemes received government aid from the start. Thousands of applications rolled into the administration offices. "Only those with previous farming experience were accepted. Careful selection effected a high percentage of successful placements."

Loans were made to families under settlement schemes. Settlement in groups was tried, but decided where possible. The governments found spotting them among better established settlers who would co-operate improved prospects of success, and the co-operation was given.

The war on drought in the southern areas is going on. Dams are being built. Water conservation is being attempted.

If settlers in the north succeed in building sound farming communities, stability will be given agriculture of the prairies. The future, particularly 1936, holds the answer.

Liars' Club Has
New Champion

Associated Press

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Jim (Pibber McGee) Jordan of Chicago was named yesterday the grand champion liar of 1935 by the Liars' Club of Burlington, Wis.

Jordan, a radio performer who uses the professional name of "Pibber McGee" and specializes in "shoppers," won the club's annual contest with a story about a rat.

He told it this way: "Two years ago the weather was so cold that it drove a large rat into our house for shelter."

"Do whatever I would, I could not catch him even with the most cleverly baited traps. Finally I hit on an idea."

"The cold drove you in," says I to myself, "and the cold will catch you." That night after supper I brought in our largest thermometer and put it in the kitchen, putting a big piece of cheese beneath it.

"The next morning I had Mr. Rat. The mercury had fallen so low during the night that it pinned him to the floor."

SAFETY CAMPAIGN
ACROSS CANADAHon. C. D. Howe, Federal Minister of Railways,
Joins Provincial Leaders
in Appeal to Auto Drivers

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—A plea to eliminate loss of life on the nation's highways in 1936 went out to Canadians to-day from Hon. C. D. Howe, Federal Minister of Railways, and ministers with jurisdiction over highways of four provinces.

Impressed with the growing toll of highway fatalities, Premier Dymally of New Brunswick, Hon. T. B. McQueen, Highways Minister of Ontario, Hon. W. R. Clubb, Minister of Public Works and Labor in Manitoba, and Hon. W. A. Falloy, Alberta Minister of Public Works, joined with Mr. Howe in messages urging highway safety.

Recalling the federal government, the railways and municipalities had in the last quarter century spent a total of $36,000,000 for protecting level crossings, Mr. Howe said the work must be continued and extended as the public interest required, "but as the toll of death and injury in motor accidents continues to mount it becomes increasingly evident—the crux of the problem is not so much the level crossing . . . but along the highways themselves . . ."

"Every day we see that is chiefly the human element—the lapse of judgment—rather than mechanical failure, that is chiefly responsible for the present state of affairs."

Deciding the remedy lay in safe driving, Mr. Howe said a safety campaign rested with the individual driver.

"Let us hope," he concluded, "the record for 1936 in this respect will show decided improvement."

AT TOO GREAT PRICE

Said Premier Dymally: "The trend of modern highway construction is to encourage speed. But we cannot encourage the indulgence of the records that speed is being purchased at too great a sacrifice of human life. Every driver of a motor car must be brought to realize he is operating a machine that may be a vehicle of utility or a vehicle of destruction."

At Toronto, Mr. McQueen declared he felt it his duty to point out that the continued seriousness of the motor vehicle accident situation and the resultant waste of life, health and property demand that each individual resolve to take every precaution in 1936 to keep himself and others free from accidents.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

From Winnipeg came Mr. Clubb's message: "The problem of reducing traffic accidents is without doubt a matter of developing better and safer drivers in which must be inculcated a personal responsibility for the safety of the vehicle he is driving."

Mr. Falloy regarded "the steadily mounting toll of highway fatalities" as "a most disturbing problem to every loyal Canadian citizen." He appealed "to all loyal citizens to be considerate in this matter."

IN UNITED STATES

Associated Press
Chicago, Jan. 2.—Safety campaign designed to reduce the 1936 automobile mortality total on United States highways by 35 per cent got away to a poor start on New Year's Day.

Statistics compiled showed at least ninety-three persons died in automobile accidents yesterday compared with ninety-eight on January 1, 1935, or a drop of slightly better than 5 per cent. The figures were incomplete and unofficial.

CITY FACES 1936
AS MOVIE CENTRE

Its first Victoria-made picture, "Stop, Look and Love," is at the final stage in Hollywood, where the processing is being done for the company at present, and will be released in a short time.

Columbia was so well pleased with the results obtained that the picture will be released over its main United States circuit before sending it to England.

EXCELLENT STUDIO

In the Willows Industrial Building Central Films has a better studio than any independent producer in Hollywood, and it has all the equipment from a great camera stand which rises and falls silently at the touch of a button, to the smallest spotlight. It has also what is stated to be the best sound equipment in Canada.

Mr. Bishop hopes shortly to have his next picture made here, and to bring even more of the work of movie-making into this city. He already has a laboratory where tests can be made to determine the results obtained.

Mr. Bishop does not yet know what his next picture will be: that is for Columbia to determine. But he plans to use Vancouver Island scenery in a logging story at some point in his schedule.

TO TAKE HOLIDAY

Central Films will take a short holiday before the beginning to work on its next production. Between the final shoot of "out" in "Stop, Look and Love" and the time when the sound man first threw the camera switch for "Tugboat Prince" little more than a week elapsed. Mr. Bishop does not consider that this gave his men long enough to recuperate. Making movies is a nerve-racking game.

Victoria may see pretty young Maxine Doyle again. Mr. Bishop hopes to bring the young star of "Stop, Look and Love" back to take the lead in another of his pictures. Miss Doyle won the affection of all who worked with her for her sense of humor and her qualities of a real trouper. She is also one of the fortunate people who photograph extremely well.

Victoria's entry into the movie field is giving employment to a large number of men. Carpenters, electricians, still photographers, painters, plasterers and many others have found steady jobs with Central Films. In addition, local people are getting fairly important parts in the pictures, and a host of extras are obtaining occasional days of work and amusement.

CHEERY NOTE AS
1936 WELCOMED

bec extended "to my compatriots in this province and to all my co-citizens my sincerest wishes that the new year of 1936 will be a bright and prosperous one," and he said he believed "better days are ahead of us for already we see signs of improvement in business and industry."

IN UNITED STATES

New York, Jan. 2.—New-born 1936 romped on the scene—his birthday marked by many a splitting headache, but his future a glow of rosy promise.

Business leaders joined public officials in predicting notable improvements in the coming year. Celebrants slumbered late yesterday after one of the maddest New Year greetings since the boom years.

From all the country came reports of celebrations that blew the lid off local regulations and tore the rubber bands from bank rolls. Troubles were forgotten—extravagance was a watchword—the new year came in style.

Merrymakers jammed New York's Times Square. Shouts of revelry poured from hotels and night clubs. Mayor LaGuardia's anti-noise ban was lifted, and in thousands of bars and "hot-spots" the "open-all-night" sign hung high.

BIG SUMS SPENT

Even St. Louis Philadelphia forgot its traditional dignity in a night of noise and fun such as the Quaker City had not seen for years. George W. Willott, Chamber of Commerce secretary, estimated more than $1,000,000 was spent greeting 1936.

Generally the United States followed New York's lead. Hotels and clubs reported reservations "the largest in years." Revelers said the same thing about the cheques. Bands played more loudly and the general public joined head waiters, entertainers, bartenders and taxi drivers in the glad chorus.

FORECASTS MADE

"The depression is over," Heartening forecasts for 1936 came from men prominent in public and private affairs.

"The country has every reason to look for betterment in various particulars in 1936," said Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Brig-Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA chief, forecast the new year "will be good because the depression has worn itself out."

The United States gave 1936 a flying start.

Ottawa, Jan. 2 (Canadian Press).

Unless something of urgent importance arises there will be no cabinet session until next Wednesday, it was learned to-day. Premier Minister King will remain at Laurier House, where he is busily engaged in preparation for the Legislative session opening February 6.

Body Declared Dead
By Doctors Kept By Family

MIRACLES TESTS

Funeral arrangements were completed two days after he collapsed, and a coffin was built. A mirror placed over the mouth clouded as if he were breathing, however, and the visiting priest, Mr. J. A. H. Blaquiere, agreed that considering the strange condition of the body, with no outward sign of rigor mortis, the funeral should be delayed a few days.

Day and night the body was watched, and when no change was noted the family began to hope the aged fisherman was really staying off death.

GOVERNMENT SENDS PHYSICIAN

On orders from the Attorney-General of Quebec, Dr. Andrew Gaillet of Amherst Island yesterday made a careful examination and again found no change.

But the coroner said immediate burial was not necessary if the family was still doubtful, and preferred to wait for a change. Desperate with grief and uncertainty, the Fougères decided not to give up their long vigil, and to-day the grave that was prepared before Christmas is still empty.

INFORMATION AWAITED

Canadian Press
New York, Jan. 2.—The strange case of Didier Fougères at Etang du Nord, Magadalen Islands, interested New York medical circles to-day, but few cared to comment until more definite facts had been established.

Dr. Isaacs Gaillet of the New York Academy of Medicine said the only answer to the apparently perplexing problem of whether the man was dead or alive is that "a person cannot be dead and alive at the same time."

He said he believed that under the conditions as stated Fougères is not dead, but might be in a comatose state. He said that when life leaves a body rigor mortis and decomposition immediately set in. Therefore, if conditions are as reported Fougères cannot possibly be dead.

TORONTO OPINION

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Dr. M. Crawford, chief coroner for Ontario, expressed skepticism at the report from the Magdalen Islands that a seventy-one-year-old man pronounced dead ten or eleven days ago shows signs of life.

"We would not consider him dead if rigor mortis has not set in," said Dr. Crawford. "There have been cases where a man was not sure a person was dead for three or four hours, but after that one can tell for sure. This man may merely be in some sort of coma. Anyway, the story looks rather colored to me."

two weeks, supplying the Christmas and New Year trade.

The feature, however, was that buying was spread over a longer period. The Christmas trade, like in the stores generally, started earlier.

This board officials believe indicates a freer circulation of money prior to the issuing by most firms of pay cheques at Christmas time.

Liquor sales are usually taken as a good barometer of general business conditions.

abandoned for there being any other survivors.

"Until the wreckage is salvaged and full inquiries made, the cause of the accident cannot be ascertained."

HAD BEEN RETIRED
The City of Khartoum, which had accommodations for fifteen passengers and a crew of four, had been retired from service recently, but was recalled to place the flying boat which burned in the Italian harbor of Brindisi in November.

The plane took off from Mirabella, Crete, at noon Tuesday and was wrecked the Alexandria airport at 8.20 p.m. that it was winding in the wireless antennae preparatory to landing. Fifteen minutes later the machine was sighted, still flying over the sea.

SEARCH SOON STARTED
There were no witnesses to the plunge, but a search was started when the craft failed to arrive at Alexandria. Hours later, the Brindisi wireless she had picked up Pilot Wilson and had discovered some wreckage of the plane.The victims were:
Passengers: Capt. R. Mason, London; Mrs. Ursula Horesman, London; Wellsted, Baghdad; Miss Riford, London; Mrs. Ursula Horesman, London; A. L. Garrett, London; A. R. Rastall, London; Signor Tartaglione, an Italian, and James C. Luke, Philadelphia, an oil engineer en route to Basra, Iraq, from London. He was a naturalized United States citizen, but a native of Southampton.

Crew: Flight Engineer Amor, Wireless Operator Baker and Steward Richardson.

Mrs. Horesman had spent Christmas with her four children in England and was on her way to Cawnpore, India, where her husband is a cotton mill owner.

Swedish Red
Cross Leaders Meet

mediate meeting of the Swedish Red Cross to consider the case.

Sweden's Red Cross was reported reliably to take the view that Fascist aerial attacks striking first an American hospital at Dessye and then the Swedish unit on the southern front—were directed intentionally against the Red Cross.

Prince Carl, president of the Swedish Red Cross, summoned the organization to a special session to-day to decide any action to be pursued against Italy for the reported destruction Monday of its Ogaden province unit.

MANY OFFERS

Informed sources said this nation's Red Cross was ready to send a greater, improved unit to Ethiopia; that contributions were pouring in and hundreds of men and women volunteered their services.

NEW SEVERITY

Canadian Press From Havas
Rome, Jan. 2.—The alleged beheading of a Fascist pilot provoked indignation comment to-day in the Italian press, which demanded use of all possible weapons against the Ethiopians.

The large type on page one of the Tribune said: "The Italian people, faced with a wild Ethiopian barbarity, demand the war be continued with the severest and most effective methods."

MANY WEAPONS

Associated Press
Rome, Jan. 2.—Reliable sources, speculating on the possibility of an Italian campaign of "punishment" from the air, said to-day the Fascist army had vast quantities of "scientific weapons" it was reluctant to use against Ethiopia.

The weapons have been withheld, these sources reported, until such time as Ethiopian war practices might arouse a national demand to "fight fire with fire."

However, some predicted a violent campaign from the air might supplement bullets, as Italian "punishment" for the alleged beheading of one or two aviators by hostile warriors.

NO EXPLANATIONS

Informed sources, referring to the bombing of a Swedish-Ethiopian hospital unit, said Italy does not consider explanations to Sweden to be necessary.

The government now has been informed no Swedes were killed in the Monday bombardment on the southern Ethiopian front and only one was wounded.

(An Ethiopian communique from Addis Ababa to-day stated twenty-eight Ethiopians were killed and two Swedish physicians wounded in the attack.)

Travelers in a war zone must necessarily take risks, Fascists said.

SEEN BY FLIERS

The Italian sources also declared the beheading of two Italian aviators by Ethiopian troops, an incident which the Fascist government cites to justify the aerial attack was witnessed by other fliers from the air.

Meanwhile competent observers said there were three major factors in the Italo-Ethiopian crisis causing national concern:

1. Possibility of American oil export restrictions under any new neutrality programme adapted by congress.

2. Talk of a Franco-British defence accord.

3. Retarded progress of Italy's armies on both the northern and southern fronts in Ethiopia.

DEFENCE PLANS
FOR SANCTIONSBritish and French General
Staffs Ready to Counter
Any Italian MoveBy GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Jan. 2.—The British and French general staffs are laying down plans for joint action should Italy retaliate against sanctions by acts of war.

The undertakings given a reciprocal, but confined to reprisals arising from the application of sanctions. They do not, it is stated in British circles, go beyond the obligation implicit in Paragraph 5 of Article XVI in the Covenant of the League of Nations.

Reports that the Anglo-French conversations cover hypothetical attacks not arising from the application of League sanctions are declared by British authorities to be without any foundation.

The plans cover co-operation by sea, air and land. There is no naval action in the Mediterranean are understood to be complete. Military and air co-operation raise more difficult problems.

As a sequel to the Franco-Italian rapprochement of January . . . last, it is further reported, France requested Britain to retain a considerable military force at home for transport to the continent should the need arise.

Beyond confirming the fact of general staff preparations, however, British authorities decline to make any statement on their response to French suggestions.

ROLLED DOWN BANK

Daniels is reported by the police to have been driving east on Dallas Road, near St. Lawrence Street, when the machine left the road, fell down the embankment into the railway yard and rolled over.

Police also stated charges would result from two of the other accidents.

A persistent street rumor to the effect that an eighteen-year-old girl had been killed in a motor crash on the Island Highway, near the Malahat was unconfirmed by provincial police.

RELIEF CAMPS
ARE INSPECTED

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Inspection of relief camps is proceeding and the committee appointed by Hon. Norman McLeod, Minister of Labor, has advised the department it will soon have completed its work in British Columbia.

R. A. Rigg, head of Dominion employment offices and chairman of the committee, wired the department he and his colleagues are proceeding to camps at Hope and Lytton, B.C.

Cadboro Bay Road about 3.30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. O'Neil was driving north on Cadboro Bay Road in the heavy rain when his car went into a skid. Before he could straighten it out it crashed into the pole, breaking it off at the base and carrying it thirty-five feet. The pole was rooted at the base and snapped almost instantly.

Telephone wires were strung across the road by the accident and B.C. Electric linemen, including one in his tuxedo, were called out to repair them.

Cars driven by Raymond English, 2817 Prior Street, and G. A. Rudd, Marigold, were involved in a crash near the Chanticleer Inn about 3.30 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. English was coming to the city from the Colwood Golf Club and Mr. Rudd was taking friends home to Langford Lake. Both cars were damaged but there were no personal injuries.

City police this morning laid a charge of stealing a car against Daniels, who is in St. Joseph's Hospital. He is alleged to have stolen the machine from outside the Douglas Hotel about 3 o'clock in the morning. The accident occurred about 3.30 o'clock. The car is owned by the Motor House. According to police, the Indian reported there were two white men with him at the time of the crash.

THIS NEW YEAR

PROBABLY THERE IS NO BETTER proof of the fact that man is an incurable optimist than the ancient custom of saying "Happy New Year."

That phrase represents a little more than just a pious hope that things will go well in the next twelve months. It springs from an uneasy realization that we somehow did not manage to do quite as well with the last twelve as we had hoped to do, and that once a year is by no means too often to take stock of past mistakes and get a new grip on the future.

From the lowly mortal who hopefully swears off cigars to the world statesman who resolves to give his people a slightly better break henceforward, we all come up to the start of a new year with a feeling that it is up to us to take a brace. If a glance at our pasts makes us pessimistic, we can at least become hopeful again by looking forward.

So we make our New Year's resolutions and set out to run one more lap against the old gentleman with the scythe and the whiskers; and if our performance never quite comes up to what we expect of it, we at least do edge ourselves forward a little bit—which, in an imperfect and sinful world, is something.

And if we took the time to sit down and think about it, we might discover that that, after all, is the way the world as a whole makes most of its progress—by slow, painful inches, with many a back-sliding and many a skinned knee and bruised foot, and not by sudden, spectacular leaps.

The landscape is fairly well cluttered up these days with all kinds of gentlemen who want to lead us up to the millennium by day after to-morrow. Some of them talk grandly of the revolution in which every hill shall be made low and every valley shall be exalted; some of them would settle all our troubles by turning the currency inside out, or by deporting all labor organizers, or by instituting a universal system of eugenics, offhand, or by having all stock speculators hanged, or by putting the affairs of state into the hands of black, brown or stuffed shirts.

We shall hear a good deal of and from all of these people in 1936. And it might help us to remember that in the long run the world makes its progress much as we ordinary individuals make ours—by slow stages, adding a bit of horse sense here and an extra inch of common decency and kindness there, and not by cure-all panaceas or wild whittlings.

For the painful truth is that there is no short cut to blessedness. The new year will bring us just about what we have got coming to us, as individuals and as a world. It will not rise above the levels we set for ourselves. The most we can do is resolve to make it just a little better than the last year. If we do that, and keep at it, we shall be doing all that we can do.

RUFUS ISSACS

WHEN RUFUS DANIEL ISSACS, FIRST Marquis of Reading, died in England the other day one of the most colorful careers in Britain's public life came to an end. This distinguished British statesman made his own way from the humblest of beginnings. His father was a successful fruit broker in the famous Covent Garden Market and it was the parental desire that the son should follow the same calling. But young Rufus had other ideas, and signed as cabin boy on a tramp steamer bound from England to the Orient, her course taking him up the Hoogli River. Half a century afterwards he viewed the same panorama as Baron Reading—then on his way to take office as Viceroy of India—the most important overseas post within the gift of his country.

There may have been many times when the youthful Issacs was not particularly happy in the role of cabin boy, but it is fairly reasonable to assume that the experience he gained of life and men in those days had a good deal to do with his success later. When he returned to England after his sea-faring life he joined the Stock Exchange in London. His experience there, however, was far from satisfactory, and the losses he sustained turned his thoughts to a study of the law. He was a Queen's Counsel at the age of thirty-seven, ten years after he had been admitted to the bar. Much legal work came his way, and he soon established a wide reputation as counsel in complicated commercial cases. Of him one writer wrote: "More than one crooked company promoter faced with bland complacency Issacs' apparently inconsequential string of questions, wondering what on earth counsel thought such questions would lead to. He generally found out, to his ruin, before he had finished on the witness stand. He had underestimated the atmosphere of sweet reasonableness and inexhaustible patience which the slim lawyer with the Jewish countenance invariably radiated."

Before he was forty years of age, therefore, Rufus Issacs was well on his way to fame. As far back as 1904 he had entered Parliament as Liberal member for Reading—where, by the way, Goldwin Smith, famous Canadian publicist was born—and he maintained this association until 1913 when he was elevated to the peerage, taking the name of the town as his title. Rt. Hon. H. H. Asquith, then Prime Minister, appointed him as Solicitor-General in 1910, a few months afterwards installing him as Attorney-General and, departing from established precedent, gave him a seat in the cabinet.

Among the posts Lord Reading held at various times was Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, Lord Chief Justice of England, President of the Anglo-French Loan Mission to the United States, 1916; special envoy to the United States, 1917; High Commissioner and special Ambassador to the United States, 1918. Then came the period between 1921 and 1926 when he was Viceroy of India, to be followed by his incumbency of the post of Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the first National Government, 1931. His death thus closed a remarkable high achievement which should prove a real inspiration to the youth of Britain.

Canada has had her lean years since 1930. There is no necessity here to discuss the various causes of our decline and tardy recovery; the point to be noted with satisfaction in the table is that the country is climbing gradually out of the valley. One only needs to compare the country's external trade for the fiscal year of 1933 (ending March 31) with that of the fiscal year ending March 31, 1935, to realize this.

It is still more gratifying to know that at the end of October last our outside business was just a little less than $1,248,000,000. Moreover, now the present government at Ottawa has settled its tariff dispute with Japan and negotiated a reciprocity trade agreement with the United States, there should be more hopeful news for the press to chronicle before long.

ETHIOPIA AND LIBYA

NOBODY OUTSIDE OF ITALY AND Ethiopia looks to the military announcements from Rome and Addis Ababa for accurate information of what is actually taking place in the war zone. Both governments have clamped down a lead-tight censorship on independent reports. Mussolini dares not admit a reverse unless the news of it is likely to leak out through other channels, in which case he minimizes its importance, while Haile Selassie fears the effect of such an admission upon his loosely-knit tribal confederacy.

Apparently the most important struggle of the campaign has been in progress for several days the fortunes of which seem to be in doubt. One of Selassie's northern armies, well equipped with arms and ammunition, appears to have disappeared; its leader has failed to report to headquarters, and there seems to be some apprehension at Addis Ababa that it may have got mixed up in its objective and aligned itself on the wrong side. We do know, however, that Italy has made very little substantial military progress so far, and that Badoglio is trying to get in a body blow before the rainy season begins a few weeks hence, while the Ethiopian ruler also has ordered an important battle to keep his warriors in a fighting mood.

Meanwhile Italy, resentful of the decapitation of two airmen by the Ethiopians, who mightily can't appreciate the fine distinction between that form of reprisal and the bombing of women and children, has bombed a Swedish Red Cross establishment, killing a number of Swedish mercy workers. This desperate measure has aroused Swedish indignation to a very high point, and the Stockholm government has protested to the League of Nations, whose Council probably will take the matter up. Mussolini could not have taken a course more definitely calculated to force the stiffening of the sanctions against Italy than this wanton attack. He seems to be deliberately inciting the rest of the world to take more drastic steps against him so that he can present some plausible excuse to the Italian people for the failure of his armies to win the conquest which was to make him another Caesar. Just how he is going to justify to the Italian people, in the cold grey dawn of the morning after, a policy which has won the reprobation of most of the outside world, will be one of the interesting problems of the future. He is even making the position of his friends in France more precarious, and this is almost untenable now.

A report from outside sources says there has been a revolt in the Italian troops in Libya in which an officer has been killed. Rome's version is that the outbreak affected only seven or eight men of one detachment, but it probably is more serious than that. The Italian forces in Libya are intended as a threat against Britain in Egypt. Whether the mutiny was of large or small proportions, it merely foreshadows a condition which eventually will have a far-reaching repercussion at home. Dictators always have been, and always will be, eventually hoist by their own petards.

THESE CHANGING STYLES

He promised devotion, so lovely her face
And so golden her hair when they met!
But a man, if you hear but her side of the case,
Is quick to desert and forget!

He swore he'd remember her down through the years,
Forever her charms he'd recall.
But the very next time that they met, 't appears,
The man didn't know her at all.

Now if only her side of the story you're told
You will think that the man was to blame,
You'll be sure that his love had turned suddenly cold
To be warmed by a livelier flame.

The man still remembers and thinks of her yet—
And fancies his lost love is dead,
For those treasures of gold by the next time they met
Had been dyed a peculiar red.

For that girl of his dream he still seeks high and low,
All in vain he still looks for her smile,
But why should a man be expected to know
That a blonde is no longer the style?

Loose Ends

Reviewing the events of the last year, one sees that it produced a number of events, which are quite interesting, in a rather melancholy fashion.

RECORD

THE OFFICIAL RECORD of all the chief events of 1935 was delayed slightly by the exhaustive research required for its composition. However, here it is, late but guaranteed to be complete and accurate: January: Bankers make customary announcement that New Year will see world recovery. Mr. Beak slips in through back door at 6 a.m., skillfully evading Mrs. Beak. Half a dozen Canadians slip into knightships, in New Year's honors, skillfully evading views of Canadian Parliament and people. Incident newspaper fellow from Victoria, B.C., Unsuley Calgary and is publicly denounced in press, poetry and pulpit. Mayor McGeer preaches sermon in Calgary church on brotherhood of man. Premier Bennett says he will stand by his policies and by capitalism, refusing to listen to revolutionary theories and undoubted economic depression. Mayor McGeer bitterly denounces the Bennett government, the Pattullo government, the banks, the politicians and the public. Ethiopia still unknown spot somewhere in Africa or Asia.

February: B.C. Legislature meets. Floods and high winds sweep country. Mrs. Noggins discovers signs of an interesting event at Mrs. Boggs's house. Premier Bennett discovers depression, is shocked and says something ought to be done about it. Mrs. Noggins says nothing can be done about it. Unsuley business. Saved by President Roosevelt from collapse, begins systematic attack on government for interfering in business. Directors of Golden Calf mine decide to erect mill and large numbers of leading citizens are allowed in on a sure thing of thirty cents a share. British Columbia budget balanced except for sinking funds and huge borrowings. Unemployment dropping steadily. Mr. Stevens still a Conservative. Mayor McGeer announces Vancouver is bankrupt and can't pay interest on debt and asks the public to buy city bonds to start large new programs of expenditure.

SPRING

MARCH: Premier Bennett collides with microphone, with extraordinary results. Says he promised to end unemployment or perish in the attempt and still stands by that promise. Premiers of Great Britain, France and Italy meet at Stresa and agree to allow Italy to partition Ethiopia while Italy agrees to stand with them against Germany. World has never heard of Ethiopia and thinks it is the name of a kind of rumiant or garbie. B.C. Legislature rocked by grave crisis over New Westminster Bridge and anything may happen. Premier Bennett announces discovery that capitalism is rotten and must be completely revolutionized this year. Mrs. Noggins thinks event will occur about August. Legislature adjourns in perfect peace and harmony, and nothing happens.

April: Italians start to send troops by the shipload through Suez Canal to carve up Ethiopia as agreed with Great Britain and France. No one is interested. Mussolini denies any intention of waging war. Golden Calf stock down to fifteen cents. Premier Bennett, in series of radio speeches, proposes to regulate business and revolutionize society. Mr. Stevens still a staunch Conservative, says Mr. Bennett is too conservative. Political observers expect federal election in June. Mrs. Noggins's forecast is still for August. Man named Aberhart collides with microphone and book by Major Douglas, but no one pays any attention to him.

May: Premier Bennett announces plans to retire everyone at sixty but is determined to retain premiership at sixty-five. Says Mr. Stevens is too conservative. Italy's army in Ethiopia now totals half a million men, but Mussolini points out that he has no intention of waging war. League of Nations busy making survey of unemployment in Turkestan. Japan, having consolidated itself in Manchuria, penetrates further south into China. Golden Calf mill ready to operate and large returns promised those who were lucky enough to get in on the ground floor. Political observers expect election in June. Mrs. Noggins expects it will be a boy in August. Business reports rapid recovery and New Year stock market starts to rise. Only about twenty million Americans and one million Canadians on down now. Premier Bennett says this is not a satisfactory condition and something must be done about it. Mr. Aberhart suggests everyone should be paid $28 a month by the state.

SUMMER

JUNE: World discovers that Italians are about to partition Ethiopia. Great Britain asks what Italy means by its plan to partition Ethiopia. League of Nations inquires what Italy means by trying to partition Ethiopia. Ethiopia discovered to be negro state in Africa, with an emperor named Haile Selassie, who wears a turban and a white sheet. Canadian Parliament rushes through Premier Bennett's reform legislation, with confident assurance of Minister of Justice that it is probably unconstitutional, but this doesn't matter since public doesn't understand what it is about anyway. Mr. Stevens ready to accept Conservative leadership if Mr. Bennett is forced to retire by ill health.

July: United States fears total collapse and demoralization of business if N.R.A. is rejected by courts. Golden Calf mills first ore. Shareholders astonished to hear that some gold was recovered. Suspect there has been some monkey business among directors. N.R.A. rejected by courts. Business reported improving. Man named Aberhart sweeps into power in Alberta. League asks Mussolini what he means by massing troops in Ethiopia. Tribesmen of Ethiopia, after a feast of hot blood and raw meat at Addis Ababa, say they will fight and die to defend civilization. Mussolini says he has no warlike intentions. British government is satisfied. Socialist Premier Ramsay MacDonald retires as head of Union Government and devotes sociological talents to London society. He is succeeded by Stanley Baldwin, who appoints a great statesman and future prime minister, Sir Samuel Hoare, as Foreign Secretary. Mr. Bennett refusing to retire, Mr. Stevens says he is in disagreement on principle with Conservative Party and forms his own party.

August: Premier Bennett announces there will be an election at some time in the future. Mrs. Noggins thinks it won't be long now. No one has seen Cadborosaurus for twelve months. Experts believe depression is over. Unemployment relief rolls in British Columbia start to rise again. Golden Calf makes slight profit. Shareholders suspect trickery somewhere. Italians start to fight Ethiopians. Mussolini denies any intention of fighting Ethiopians. British peace ballot shows 11,068,000 voters in favor of League of Nations. Premier Baldwin is shocked to discover that Italians have shipped troops through Suez and concentrated them in Ethiopia. Sir Samuel Hoare flies to Geneva. Mr. Eden flies to Paris. Little boy next door catches first crawfish of season at our lake. Alberta demands its $25.

AUTUMN

SEPTEMBER: Baldwin government will stand by League and defend civilization in Ethiopia. Ethiopian soldiers refuse to wear shoes. Premier Bennett announces election to be held in October and starts nationwide crusade. Golden Calf runs out of ore and closes mill. Shareholders breathe easier. Sir Samuel Hoare flies to Paris. Mr. Eden flies to Geneva. Mussolini says he has no intention of making war and will never stop fighting. Mr. Stevens's party is sweeping eastern Canada and will gain a hundred seats in next Parliament. Mr. Mackenzie King strongly criticized for lack of color and excitement in his campaign and it is freely predicted he cannot possibly win election. Mr. Bennett is running strongly in Maritimes. Cohoes running strongly in Cowichan Bay. Mrs. Noggins expects it any day now. Mr. Aberhart says the same thing.

October: British government will stand or fall by League of Nations in defence of dear old Ethiopia. So strongly is it behind League and Ethiopia that it decides to go to the country immediately and ask electors' support of its high-minded policy. Danger of general war, as on eve of all British elections, is said to be very great. British electors rush to defence of Baldwin, the League and Ethiopia. Italians bomb Ethiopia, villages and sweep all before them. League will not permit Italy to invade Ethiopia. Italy invades Ethiopia. Japan invades China. Mr. Aberhart asks loan from federal government. Mr. Bennett conducts triumphal tour through Canada and discovers that country was on verge of revolution until he stopped it at Regina, where nation was about to be conquered by a few hundred unarmed boys from road camps. Mr. King strongly criticized for not making large promises and whooping up the campaign. Mr. Stevens sweeping east. Baby born at Boggs's house. Mrs. Noggins says, well, anyway, a girl is better than nothing, even if it is two months late.

Sir Samuel still flying. Mr. Eden ditto. Mr. Baldwin will never desert dear old Ethiopia, prior to general election. Mr. King given greatest majority in Canadian history.

WINTER

NOVEMBER: British government returned by huge majority to defend dear old Ethiopia. British fleet moved into Mediterranean. Mr. Aberhart sends SOS to Major Douglas to come and produce that $25 a month. Sir Samuel Hoare flies everywhere. So does Mr. Eden. Both are busy saving dear old Ethiopia and the League. Japan penetrates deep into China. Mayor McGeer is elected. Business looks forward to best Christmas trade in years. Stock market soars. British Columbia unemployment rolls show slight increase over total for same period in 1934. Mayor McGeer is not elected. Golden Calf directs ask shareholders to advance a hundred thousand to reopen mill in case avenue ore is found. Mayor McGeer is elected.

December: Premier Laval of France, and Sir Samuel Hoare of Britain, agree to hand over Ethiopia to Italians. British government endorses plan, issues white paper covering it and presents it to League. British public wakes up to realize that dear old Ethiopia is to be partitioned and is furious. Premier Baldwin repudiates Hoare-Laval plan and explains that he hadn't understood what Sir Samuel was up to because the long-distance telephone connections to the continent were so bad. Naturally, the British government would never agree to any such plan and it is dead. The British government having reversed itself twice, is standing, says Mr. Baldwin. (Turn to Page 15, Col. 2)

Farmers Favor Closed Season

Metchosin Union Directors
Make Recommendations; Officers Are Chosen

A three-year closed season on migratory birds, the full enforcement of game laws and prohibition of Sunday hunting were recommended by directors of the Metchosin Farmers' Union at a meeting held recently. In going on record against hunting on Sundays, the union drew attention to wild shooting by young people who came out from the city, endangering the lives of farm stock and of other hunters. The union also recommended that no hunting licenses be issued to persons under twenty years of age. The possibility of holding a series of lectures on subjects affecting the betterment of the farming community was also discussed. The possibility of holding a series of lectures on subjects affecting the betterment of the farming community was also discussed. OFFICERS ELECTED F. C. Blake was elected president of the union for the coming year. Other officers were named as follows: Vice-president, George A. Turner; secretary-treasurer, R. W. Robinson; and directors, George Duncan, Walter Wybrow and Charles Helgeson. The above officers, together with Charles L. Whitney-Griffiths, were appointed delegates to the advisory board which will meet at the Parliament Buildings January 6, and were armed with a large number of resolutions on matters concerning the wellbeing of the farming community, notably education.

HEALTH INSURANCE UP IN PROVINCE The Dominion government has no intention of entering the health insurance field, Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, said today. Dr. Weir said it was the consensus of opinion at the recent Dominion-provincial conference that health insurance was a matter for the provinces and not for the Dominion to undertake. Dr. Weir said he discussed the matter with the majority of the members of the federal cabinet who held this view strongly. He referred also to a statement which had been drafted at the conference and which expressed the practically unanimous views of the representatives in attendance. This statement is as follows: "Any effective system of health insurance, involving, as it probably would, preventive measures that would inevitably affect minority rights, under sections 92 and 93 of the B.N.A. Act, could be enacted only by the provinces and not by the federal Parliament. Questions of sterilization, birth control, sex hygiene, the teaching of health in the schools, diversity of local economic and social conditions, hospital clearance and admissions, public and church hospital control, and similar matters necessitate that provincial jurisdiction remain supreme in the health field. At the same time the federal government should be encouraged to supplement provincial effort in matters of public health."

SALT SPRING Ganges, Jan. 2.—The Christmas party of the combined Sunday schools of Ganges, Central Settlement and North Salt Spring, took place in the central settlement hall between fifty and sixty scholars sat down to supper. Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Popham were guests of honor, the former addressing the children. A programme of carol singing, followed by games, was given by the children, after which they enjoyed a magic lantern show. In response to the special appeal for funds by the churchwardens of the parish to the A.Y.P.A., a card party was held in the social clubroom at Ganges last Saturday evening. First prize winners were: Miss Yacobi and Mr. Pudge; second prizes going to Mr. and Mrs. P. Nichol, and a special prize being awarded to George Judd. Only three disease cause more deaths in the world than do accidents of all kinds. The Council Trees, near Charlevoix, Mich., were planted 100 years ago by Indian chiefs, as a pledge of peace "so long as the trees bear leaves." So that the white man might not cut the trees for lumber, they were bent into curious shapes. Nine of the trees are alive to-day.

Miss Dingman Reviews Tour

World Y.W.C.A. Official Writes Impressions of Canadian Trip

Miss Mary Dingman of the world Y.W.C.A., Geneva, who last month attended a number of audiences in Victoria with her rousing addresses on world conditions, has written the local branch of the Y.W.C.A., and her letter is here reproduced in part:

"My Dear Friends:

"The king anticipated Canadian tour is over, but it will never be forgotten. Commencing September 19 in St. John's, Newfoundland, on the Atlantic, it seemed to grow better and better as time went on, and the visits in Vancouver and Victoria on the Pacific were a fitting climax but each place in between has its special memory.

"Nothing I can say can adequately express all the happiness and gratitude I feel as I look back over these visits to twenty-seven cities. Every detail was so carefully thought out in advance, there was not a single hitch at any time. The welcome and hospitality everywhere were heart warming, and I am more convinced than ever that there is a special and precious quality in the fellowship we have in our young Women's Christian Association. I am praying that this may grow and intensify as time goes on—nothing can take its place. We can here and now give a demonstration of 'mutuality' within our groups and in our relation to other groups which will be glimpses of what will yet be in the whole wide world.

"I have said some very frank and disturbing things, and the open-mindedness and humility with which they have been received are the surest proof that the learning, receptive spirit is awake and active. There is need for it. I have finished the tour with deeper conviction that ever that the Y.W.C.A. is entering upon a new period of its long existence, a period which must be characterized by greater emphasis on the spiritual and intellectual aspects of our work. This will be accomplished in many ways, but the group work of all kinds is one of the most effective methods to build character and create loyalty to the highest ideals. Where group work is strong, there I found a live vital association membership. This is a real measuring stick.

"Some good educational work is being done in clubs and classes, but so much more needs to be done. There is a splendid opportunity for a co-operative project in a community along adult education lines. Let's not be afraid of controversial questions. We are not a propagandist organization, but we must be humble, diligent searchers for more truth along all lines, and this takes some courage these days when so many people can be frightened by a label tagged on them by someone who if challenged could not tell just what the label means.

"I am writing on the train which is taking me to Berea College, Berea, Kentucky, where for the first time in ten years I am having Christmas with some of my family. I shall be thinking of you on that blessed day, and praying that we may all dedicate ourselves afresh to the great work of bringing peace on earth and good will to men. In the name of Him who alone can give us the strength for our tasks, I am

"Your comrade in the way,
"SGD. MARY A. DINGMAN."

PIONEER NURSE CALLED TO REST

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Jan. 1.—Elizabeth McBride, seventy-five, graduate nurse of Winnipeg and formerly in charge of two government hospitals in Honolulu, died yesterday at her home here.

Born in Ontario, she graduated from the Winnipeg General Hospital and in 1902 went to the Crown's Nest district in British Columbia where she was in charge of the Michel Hospital until 1920 when she moved to Honolulu.

At the Hawaiian city she took charge of a tuberculosis hospital and a general hospital; a position at which she remained until her retirement eight years ago when she moved here.

AN ATTRACTIVE LITTLE VICTORIAN

Barbara Frances, aged fifteen months, is the pretty little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Taylor, of 1233 Oxford Street, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, 1729 Bay Street, and of Mrs. Jean Innes, 1854 Southgate Street.

PERSONAL

Mr. Douglas Grant has returned to his home on Texas Island after visiting his mother, Mrs. Beauchamp Tye of Sprat Lake.

Miss Betty Gordon of Vancouver has returned to the mainland after spending the holidays with her grandmother, Mrs. M. P. Gordon, Seaford Apartment, Beach Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Galbraith and family have returned to Vancouver after spending the Christmas with Mr. Galbraith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Galbraith, Rithet Street.

Mrs. C. J. Prior, St. Patrick Street, and her daughter, Miss Marjorie Prior, will leave Victoria on Saturday for California to join Sir Frank and Lady Barnard at Coronado and spend some time with them in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carter of Vancouver came over to Victoria to spend New Year's Day with Mr. Carter's mother, Mrs. D. Carter, Denison Road, and left last night for their home on the mainland.

Miss Clarice Zeisler, who spent her Christmas vacation in Victoria with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Cochrane, Linden Avenue, has left to resume her studies at Whitman College, Walla Walla.

Mrs. Newton Cameron, who came up from California to spend his Christmas vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cameron, George Road, Barnard at Coronado and spend some time to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hart and their small sons, who have been spending the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Hart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bell, Somers Drive, have returned to their home in Washington.

Mrs. J. Calder Waugh of Gordon House, who came in to spend the winter months in Victoria and who has been staying at The Empress, today took up her residence at the Empress Hotel.

Prior to the dance at the Yacht Club on New Year's Eve, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. D. Peniston, were hosts at a buffet dinner party at their home on Poul Bay Road, when about thirty-six guests were present.

Mr. Alan T. Anderson, Miss Dorothy Anderson and Miss Katharine Ward, all of Vancouver, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Gallon, Truett Street, for the holidays, left this afternoon for their homes on the mainland.

Mr. Denis Burdon-Murphy, who is on the teaching staff of the Indian residential school at Kamloops, is spending his holidays with his mother, Mrs. Burdon-Murphy, Fort Street, who accompanied her son from the interior city.

After spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gilliland, Johnson Street, Miss Claire Gilliland left yesterday evening for Prince George to resume her duties as teacher in a public school near there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ward of North Douglas Street, Sanich, announce the engagement of their fourth daughter, Kathleen Emily, to Arthur Walter, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Perry of 427 Luxton Street, the wedding to take place at Garden City Church on January 18 at 8 p.m.

Miss Mary Ross, R.N., who recently resigned from the staff of the Transquille Sanatorium, near Kamloops, has been visiting Miss C. Knox, R.N., in Kelowna, for a few days before returning to Victoria to visit her mother, Mrs. Duncan Ross, St. Charles Street.

Weddings

At St. Aidan's manse, on December 31, the wedding took place quietly of Elvira Christina Gray, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Gray, Cedar Hill Road, and great-granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Irvine and the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whittaker, pioneer residents, to Victor Maurice Bryant, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant, Acton Street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. Griffiths.

A reception was held later in the C.G.P. Hall, Mount Tolmie, which was prettily decorated by friends of the bride. A three-tier wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. J. Penney, centred the festive supper table. Miss Barbara Dawson, cousin of the bride, rendered the solo "I Love You Truly." Assisting in serving were the Misses Ellen, Wilma, Delma and Mabel Moore, Barbara and Jean Dawson, Frances Gibbs, Primrose Mitchell and Eleanor Gray. Dancing was enjoyed, after which the young couple left on the midnight boat en route to Vancouver. They will reside at Bralorne, Bridge River.

ARCHIVIST TO ADDRESS CLUB

The Women's Canadian Club will hold its first meeting of the new year next Tuesday, January 7, at the Empress Hotel, when the speaker will be Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial archivist and librarian. His subject will be "The Iron Horse Goes Mountain-climbing." Miss "Bunny" Applegate, a gifted young soprano, will be the soloist.

PERSONAL

As has been customary since their residence in Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. George were hosts at a party on New Year's Eve at their home on Arm Street, Victoria West. About ninety guests were present to speed the old year and welcome the new year. Bridge was played in the dining-room and dancing in the ballroom, where a three-piece orchestra played the latest music. Interspersed with Yuletide decorations were chrysanthemums, antirrhinums and carnations, with the supper table centred with poinsettias. Assisting in receiving the guests with Mrs. George was Mrs. Walter Laine, Mrs. A. J. Patton and Mrs. H. Collins presided at the supper table. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. C. H. French, Mrs. V. L. Denton and Mrs. J. L. Watson. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. H. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Denton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. French, Mr. Godson, Mr. and Mrs. John Gough, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Green, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hurn, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kinghorn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. John Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Lock, Mrs. MacLachlan, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacCallum, Mr. and Mrs. E. McCarter, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. G. Swire Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Orchard, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Scurren, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Staver, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Thomson, Mrs. J. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Watson, the Misses Kathleen Armstrong, Alexis Brown, Anne Brown, Aubin Burridge, Helen Fairley, Juanita Falconer, D. Fraser, Olive French, Beatrice Godson, Geraldine Holden, Marnie Houlihan, Lola Peacey, P. Kier, Linda Smith, Patricia Smith, Marnie Sullivan, June Scurren, Isabel Sullivan and Messrs. Jack Barnes, Kenneth Billingsley (Winipeg), Phillip Bond, P. G. Booth (Vancouver), Howard Denton, Ken Drury, Jacky Fairley, Warren Godson, Jack Green, Arthur Hawkes, Check Holland, J. Houlihan, Lloyd Mackenzie, Ralph Mathews, Arthur Morton, Roger Phillips, H. L. Swan, Kenneth Ross and "Eustace" Yard.

Many persons who were themselves pioneers of the Canadian West, were to be seen in the crowd of callers who visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Allan, 2747 Graham Street, on New Year's Day to congratulate them on the diamond jubilee anniversary of their wedding. Visitors, representing almost every part of the prairies, began arriving in the morning, although the reception was not set until the afternoon. The flow of people continued until the evening. Assisting Miss Mary Allan in receiving the callers and ushering them in to meet her father and mother, was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Moses Allan of Neville, Sask., who recently arrived here with her husband and children for the diamond jubilee celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Allan were both in a happy mood and joked and talked with all the visitors, recalling many incidents and associations of early days on the prairies. Refreshments were served.

AGED MEN ENJOY CABARET DINNER

New Year's Day at the Aged Men's Home was marked by speeches, presentations and a dinner cabaret.

James H. Beatty, chairman of the Landberg fund, presided, and delivered the New Year's speech. He was accompanied by W. H. Davies, secretary of the Landberg fund, and John Anderson. They made the monthly donation of cash to non-pensioners and distributed the refreshments and cigars.

Alderman James Adams, chairman of the home committee, delivered the address of the occasion as the representative of the city. He also sang a solo which brought an outpouring of applause from the diners and visitors.

A concert party consisting of Ernie Impett, Kenneth Drury, Frank Lavry and Bobby Benson, the boy soprano, provided musical entertainment between the speeches. Mr. Impett acted as master of ceremonies, and led community singing of old-time favorites. Mr. Lavry presented his one-man orchestra.

Frank Merryfield, the magician, gave a show that took the interest of the diners away from their food and refreshments. He introduced many of his new accomplishments, including that of the disappearance and transfer of cards while held in the hands of members of the audience and not touched by himself.

DIONNES AND MANY COFFERS

Ontario Government and Others Netted $1,074,307
Through Them Last Year

Canadian Press
Callander, Ont., Jan. 2.—The Dionne quintuplets, who brought money to many during 1935, did grandly by the Ontario Government, the province's hotel keepers, store owners, service station proprietors and almost everybody who sold anything on the roads that led to their birthplace.

Over a four-month period, from June to September, 98,076 automobiles rolled their way around Dufour Hospital and some 380,304 persons stopped out for a glance at the world's most famous babes.

In June, an average of 570 cars a day stopped at the quintuplet home. The number crept to 710 a day in July and burst to a high of 1,486 a day during August. As summer left, so did the visitors, and only 329 cars a day were seen during September.

Those figures, compiled by the Ontario Tourist Bureau, dropped at least $74,307 into the coffers of the Ontario department of highways in the four months and almost $1,000,000 into the pockets of the province's business men and women.

Estimates place the number of United States visitors as 98 per cent of the total. With the nearest entrance into Canada some 300 miles from this northern Ontario village, the automobile would need at least fifteen gallons of gasoline on a two-day trip.

That meant 1,238,450 gallons from the pumps on the way to Callander. For every gallon, the highway department took six cents, a total of $74,307 from those below the border alone. You could add $25,000 from Canadian visitors and total almost $100,000 in just four months.

Basing the total number of visitors on four to a car, it left some $650,760 for various people such as the hotel-keeper and restaurant proprietor. It is an overnight stop from almost anywhere to Callander and back, and if your expenses run under $2.50 a person, you are thrifty.

Think of Dr. A. R. Dafoe, the babies' now famous physician. In just one-third of the year, nearly 400,000 people wanted to shake his hand and he was pilled with almost 1,200,000 questions. That is just three to a person.

The Golden Feather

By Robert Bruce © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

He looked up and brightened. "Oh, I forgot to tell you about that part of it," he said. "You see, I told Mr. Montague all about it. He'd handled some legal business for a friend of mine, was the whole story—not about how I'd deceived you; I mean about the mixup in Oklahoma—and while he agreed that I couldn't afford to be arrested just then, he said there was nothing to worry about in the long run."

"He said he'd put a private detective agency to work, digging up evidence, and he was sure he could get enough proof to convince the authorities back there of the truth of the matter. He got these people working on it now. Before the end of the summer it ought to be all cleared up. Then I can come and go like anybody else, with nothing to be afraid of."

He squared his shoulders and threw his head back, and Jean gave a sigh of relief.

"Sandy!" she said. "I'm so glad. She did not stop to analyze her emotions, to figure out why this last bit of news was like the lifting of a weight from her heart. She did not realize that subconsciously she was thinking, 'I'd never dare marry a man who had something like that hanging over him'; nor did she realize that the wave of happiness that came over her at the promise that the affair would be cleaned up presently might mean that she would be ready to marry this particular man, after all. She merely knew that she was glad that it had all been explained, that she would not have to worry about Sandy's having deceived her, that Sandy would not have to go on fearing that old accusation in Oklahoma. Simply and glibly, she was glad, nor did it occur to her to doubt a word that he had said."

Sandy looked around. The bench was secluded by clumps of bushes and trees, and the park was deserted as only a small town park in the mid-west can be deserted. He put his arm about her shoulders; almost imperceptibly, she nestled against it.

"Then you don't mind my trying to you?" he said softly. She looked at him and smiled.

"Not any more," she said. "I was awfully mad when I first discovered it. But I don't care now."

"Sure."

"You're wonderful. I'm going to ask you the same thing I asked you the other day. Will you marry me?"

CHAPTER XXIV

When Sandy asked her to marry him, Jean looked at him for a long time without replying. Then, slowly, "Sandy," she said, "I'm an awful coward."

"How you mean?"

"Well—I just faltered, then went on. I—I just couldn't become a man's wife when a thing like this—this Oklahoma mixup was still hanging over his head. I couldn't. Don't you see? A marriage would be too—too uncertain, that way."

"She looked at him anxiously. He nodded agreement."

"Sure, I see," he said. "I don't blame you for feeling that way. But listen; suppose that gets all cleared up, like Mr. Montague says it will. Will you, then?"

There was another long pause. Jean tried to stand off and get a look at her feeling for Sandy against this new background of Maplehurst rather than the old one of Dover; she tried to remember that it was Bobby, not Sandy, who was supposed to be in love with, and not Sandy; but none of it was much use. She was only conscious of his compelling masculine presence beside her, of his arm across her shoulders, of his face close to hers, with that old-time, half-mocking curve to the lips and that old-time, careless glint to the eyes.

"Yes," she whispered at last. It was out before she knew that she was going to say it; and as she heard herself say it she felt a sudden pang in her breast, as if she had said something that she had meant not to say, and wished that she could recall it. But then Sandy's lips were on hers, and she was pressed against him with that lean, muscular arm tight about her—and there was no room for any doubts or regrets.

When he released her, at last, she suddenly remembered that they were sitting in a public place in broad daylight; and she detached herself from his embrace as nervously as a frightened high school girl.

"Sandy!" she cried, looking about her anxiously. "The whole town is apt to see us!"

"What of it?" asked Sandy, grinning broadly. There was a good foot of daylight between them now, and he made no attempt to close the gap. Instead he got out a cigarette and lit it.

"What of it? You've lived in a small town and you ask that? Don't you know that everybody in the place would be jabbering about it by evening? I wouldn't have a shred of reputation left."

"Well," said Sandy lastly, "where's the harm in kissing your future husband, anyway?"

"Yes, but—but they don't know about that part of it."

"Why not tell 'em?"

She paused. Why not, indeed? What was there to stop her from leading Sandy down to the bank this very minute and introducing him to her father as her future husband? What was keeping her from taking him straight home and presenting him to her mother? Why was she hesitating, assuming that no one was to know? There seemed to be no logical answer to any of those questions; yet she found herself saying:

"Oh, Sandy—let's just keep it secret for a while yet. It's so—so new! You don't mind, do you?"

He grinned and looked at the river through half-closed eyelids.

"Not me," he said. "Keep it dark as long as you please—so long as you don't forget about it yourself."

"I won't," she said gaily.

"Okay. The rest of it's all right, then. Only—I've flipped his cigarette away and unexpectedly laid one hand on her knee. He squeezed it so hard that she winced, and then withdrew and shoved his hands in his pockets, his long legs extended far in front of him. "Only it's terribly hard for me to keep my hands off of you. You've got me going, baby."

This was spoken like the old Sandy—sassy, breezy and outspoken. She laughed, and refused to admit that the remark had somewhat jarred.

"Well," she said, "you've got to keep them off around here."

"Whatever you say," he said idly, "it's all right with me."

The pause that followed seemed to Jean, depressingly, to be a little awkward. She did not know why—except that she had just promised to marry a man, and it did seem that sitting there two feet apart, talking in this fashion, was not quite—well, was not quite in tune with what she would expect such an occasion to be like. She absently fingered a fold of her dress.

"How long are you going to be here?" she asked.

"Not so long," said Sandy. "I've got a car to make about fifty miles west of here. But, Lord! I couldn't go through here without stopping in to see you, could I?"

"But you're going to be here, aren't you?"

"Oh, sure. If you say so."

"Sandy!"

"What's the matter?" He sat up and looked at her in puzzled concern.

"Well—she looked at him with hurt eyes. Couldn't he see that he had pained her by that remark? What if it isn't the most natural thing for him to want to go to her father and mother at once?"

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Mention of fat in the daily diet seems to scare many persons, carrying the thought that it means developing overweight. But it isn't so bad as it sounds, because very few of us can eat enough fat alone to take care of the fuel or energy that we need.

Half an ounce, or a tablespoonful, of fat provides 100 calories, which is just a small part of the total food intake. You could get all the fuel value you needed for a whole day from three to four tablespoons of fat, if you could eat and digest that amount of fat material.

Fat is concentrated energy. It would take nearly eight pounds of cooked rice to give the same number of calories as are obtainable from three-quarters of a pound of fat.

People in the Orient, who live largely on rice and have to eat great quantities of food to derive enough fuel energy for their daily needs, develop distended stomachs because they do not have the concentrated energy provided by fat.

Fat also gives the diet staying qualities, because it leaves the stomach more slowly and delays digestion of other foods with which it is mixed. Butter spread cold on bread, however, digests more easily than butter fried into potatoes.

When a child takes a tablespoonful of cod liver oil, it is getting ten times as much vitamin A as it could get in the same amount of butter.

For this reason families with limited amounts of money to spend for food have to determine whether it is better household economy to buy milk and butter substitutes than to spend the same amount of money for cream and butter.

In such cases the use of small amounts of cod liver oil provides all the necessary materials obtainable from butter.

The butter substitutes, as oleomargarine and various coconut oil products, as well as the oils from beef and lard, are combined and treated to produce a substance which resembles butter and feels like butter when it is eaten.

When this substance is taken into the diet, instead of butter, the addition of milk, green vegetables and eggs takes care of providing other diet essentials.

TO-DAY'S HEALTH QUESTION

Q.—Is it excessive acidity that makes the mucous membrane of the mouth peel when a person eats candy?

A.—Excessive acidity is an indefinite term. There is no such thing as actual acidity of the blood, which always remains alkaline, though the degree of alkalinity varies. Disturbance of digestion of any sort, such as results from eating sweets, which produce acids, might readily produce a disturbance of the mucous membrane of the mouth.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

For so long has the parent been warned of the dire results of picking up and spilling the baby, that many mothers are fearful of giving merely healthful and necessary attention. No baby wants to lie in the same position all of the time, nor in the same bed or bassinet or carriage. All babies want to be picked up, cooed over and talked to. This is the physical and mental stimulation for which institution babies pine. These institution babies get every necessary care except mothering, and it is lack of this affectionate handling which prevents their developing at the same rate as babies raised in their own homes.

OVERDOING IT

Naturally, a mother can overdo her attentions. The child may get the idea that being awake and fussed over are inter-related situations. She can make the baby cross and nervous by too much handling and thus create more reasons for doing it. She can spoil him when he is sick and then, when he is well, lack the courage to taper off her attentions for his own good.

Another problem which is always a puzzle is what to do when the baby wakens in the night and demands attention.

DISCOMFORT WAKES BABY

Babies do not waken themselves in order to force father to pace the floor or mother to rock. They waken for reasons related to their own comfort, health or nap habits. Our leaflet, "Reasons for Wakenings," will help the mother to uncover the cause. It may be had for a self-addressed and three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

When the mother definitely rules out "being spoiled," as a cause for night wakenings, she will be on the way to helping it.

Pender Island

The programme presented by the school children in Hope Bay Hall was enjoyed by a capacity crowd of parents and friends. The medieval play depicting Christmas as spent in the sixteenth century was given by the senior pupils under the direction of Ernest Bones, principal. The cast included John Tece, Mavis Ferguson, Esther Tece, Tom Muir, Margaret Siggins, Joan Bradley, Lloyd Brackets and Murray Subgrugren. Carol-singing by the junior pupils, a recitation by Jimmy Auchterlonie, song, the "Quintuplets Lullaby," by Austin Bones, and a humorous skit, "The Crazy Army," given by Eric Grimmer, Norris Amies, Bob Amies and Don Grimmer, and "Christmas Round the World," by senior girls were the remaining items.

F. C. Smith acted as chairman. Santa distributed gifts to the children. Refreshments were served by members of the Women's Institute.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

Nicknamed "the blacksmith's pouch," because it looks like one at a distance, a quaint stone fortress stands high on the crown of a mountain overlooking the port of Cap-Haitien, in Haiti, twenty miles away. This is the "Citadel," built by slave and prison labor under the direction of Henry Christophe, slave-born negro ruler of the world's first negro republic, Haiti.

From 1804 to 1819, massive stones were brought up the mountain trails, 3,000 feet high, to build this structure, and when it was through it was used only as the burial place of its designer. Here lie what is left of the remains of the strange Christophe, who became

MAKE SEVEN NO TRUMP

Highest Possible Contract Helps Team to Win National Mixed Pair Championship

By W. M. McKENNEY

Of course, the biggest thrill in contract is to bid and make a grand slam. At rubber bridge it makes little difference whether you make your grand slam contract in a suit or no trump. But at duplicate you have an added hazard—yet must play your contract in the declaration which will score the most points.

To-day's hand was one that helped Mrs. Hortense Evans and L. J. Haddad, both of Chicago, to win the national mixed pair championship.

A number of pairs bid for a grand slam at diamonds, but Haddad and Mrs. Evans were the only pair to bid and make a grand slam at no trump. An interesting squeeze play had to be developed to make seven odd.

LANGFORD

Under the auspices of the women's auxiliary to the Prince Edward Branch No. 91, a children's party was held last Monday evening in the clubrooms on the Island Highway. A sit-down tea was served, followed by the grand march.

Mrs. A. G. Mackie and Mrs. H. A. Hinkley were the judges.

Prize-winners were Beverly Findler as a crimson cellophane girl; Gladys Staverman, apple blossom; Ada Carlow, an old-fashioned girl; Norton Welch, Chinese boy; Kenneth Hunt, bellboy; and Raymond McTavish, Jack Le Quenne, Bobbie Brown and Charlie Pimlott, cowboys. Other striking costumes were worn by Elizabeth Deane Freeman, Red Riding Hood; Patsy Brown, Little Boopie; Lois Moore, fairy; Yoe Cleavette, rainbow girl; Micky Staverman, Red Cross nurse; Phyllis Staverman, page-boy; Lorna Rodgers, pirate; Kitty Staverman, modern boy; John Hunt, doctor of lonesome folk; Theodore Baylis, French soldier; Brudell Deane Freeman, Frank Cleavette, Fred Staverman, Arthur Pimlott, Ritchie Le Quenne, Arthur McTavish, cowboys.

The concert was arranged by Mrs. B. Deane Freeman. Those taking part in the programme were: Bobbie Brown, Beverly Findler, Lois Moore, Yoe Cleavette, Patsy Brown, Phyllis Staverman, Ada Carlow, Grace Allen, Rodney Baylis, Billy Cleavette, Lorna Rodgers and Mabel Brown.

The monthly card party of the series run by the Prince Edward Branch No. 91, Canadian Legion, will take place on Saturday, January 4, at 8 o'clock, in the clubrooms, Goldstream Road.

to try to protect hearts. Now, if the queen of clubs could be located in the East hand, there was a definite squeeze.

The opening spade was won in dummy with the ace. Five rounds of diamonds were taken. On the fifth diamond a spade was discarded from dummy. Declarer then cashed his ace and king of clubs.

This left South with four hearts and a spade, dummy held the king and two small spades, the five of hearts and the jack of clubs. West was forced to bear down to jack-ten of spades and three hearts, and East held four hearts and the queen of clubs.

Now a small spade was played and won in dummy with the king. This squeezed East. He either had to release a small heart or discard the queen of clubs, which would establish dummy's jack.

WAR VETERAN IS RETAKEN

Stuart L. Brown Returned to Mental Home After Escape

Stuart L. Brown, war veteran who escaped from the Williford Road Mental Home on December 24, was captured on Tuesday evening by provincial police at the railway trestle north of Deerholme.

Brown was taken as he strolled across the bridge, telling police he had evaded capture during the afternoon by standing up to his neck in a swamp near Ben Allick, mileage sixty-five, on the Canadian National Railway, with branches covering his head.

The fugitive was located by police under Inspector Robert Owens shortly after 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon and it was during the pursuit which followed that he took refuge in the swamp waters.

At the time he was arrested his clothing was soaked and he was taken to Duncan and given a change before being brought to the home here. He was reported in good physical condition and none the worse for his experience.

The first lead which police secured in trailing him was a letter, posted from Duncan, addressed to the Attorney-General and dealing with Brown's pension case. He is reported to have written several letters with island postmarks.

Brown was returned to the home on Tuesday evening. He formerly enjoyed privileges of a trusty following his commitment after he was taken from a barricaded house in New Westminster in which he related officers for several hours.

Firemen's Ball Held at Duncan

Duncan, Jan. 2.—About 1,100 attended the ball on New Year's Eve, held annually by the volunteer fire brigade of Duncan since 1913, in the Agricultural Hall.

The hall presented a festive appearance with red and white streamers, colored lights and a large Neon sign, D.V.P.D., and the supper rooms were done in the same color scheme by Mrs. A. Evans, Mrs. J. Chaster, Mrs. A. Wyatt, Mrs. B. McNichol, Mrs. W. Talbot, Mrs. H. Marsh and Miss Ina Cattle.

The various committees were as follows: Supper committee, under supervision of Fire Chief J. W. Chaster; tickets and advertising, Hector Marsh; decorations, R. McDonald, L. Talbot, W. Talbot and S. Pitt; supper, J. W. Chaster, A. O. Evans and M. Sharcott; floor managers, O. J. Sutherland, G. McDonald and J. W. Griffiths; cloak rooms, A. Sutherland and Boy Scouts; punch bowl, W. Hudson; spotlight, A. E. Wyatt; music, Wes. Morris and his boys.

Mrs. E. Stock had charge of the supper.

Members of the brigade are Chief J. W. Chaster, Deputy Chief A. O. Evans, Capt. H. Marsh, Capt. W. A. Talbot, B. McNichol, W. R. Hattie, B. J. Anderson, R. McDonald, G. McDonald, L. Talbot, W. M. Sharcott, H. Talbot, W. Hudson, S. Pitt, A. E. Wyatt, J. Sutherland, W. Arthur, A. Sutherland, J. W. Griffiths; first aid man, F. Sargent; secretary-treasurer, H. Marsh.

E. ALEXANDER IS "PREMIER"

Retiring Speaker Chosen to Head Fourteenth Tuxis Boys' Parliament

Ernest Alexander, Vancouver, after having shown himself to be a strong and capable speaker of the house throughout the recent session, was chosen "premier" for the fourteenth annual Tuxis and Older Boys' Parliament, Saturday evening by members in the Parliament Buildings after the thirteenth session had ended.

Jack Ewan, New Westminster, who was minister of devotional affairs, was chosen government critic, while Beresford Menagh, North Vancouver, who held the position of provincial secretary, was chosen as the speaker for the fourteenth session.

Bruce McLagan, Fairmont, is the

St. Alban's Holds Christmas Party

St. Alban's Sunday school held its annual Christmas treat in the Oakland school auditorium. Tea was served at 5 o'clock with 138 children present.

Later in the evening parents attended and the children entertained them with recitations, songs, dances and several short plays. Prizes were given for good work and regular attendance, special mention being made of Pat Parkes, who has maintained five years of perfect attendance.

Rev. F. W. Weaver thanked the teachers and children for their cooperation during the year, and retiring "premier," while Art Wright is the retiring government critic.

The members joined in a ceremonial programme following the election, after which most of them boarded the midnight boat for Vancouver.

Inquest on Miner Resumed To-morrow

Nanaimo, Jan. 2.—A coroner's inquest into the death of Louis Houston, coal digger, who collapsed and died at work here December 22, adjourned the inquest until January 3.

Dr. Lorenz Giovanna, the physician called to attend Houston when he collapsed, stated he had received a telephone call from Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance of Vancouver, who had made an analysis of Houston's blood. Dr. Giovanna reported that he suspected saying he had found enough carbon monoxide in the sample to have caused death.

Detroit Red Wings Defeat Chicago In Wild Hockey Battle

THE SPORTS MIRROR

JOCK McAVOY, the most formidable British fighter since Ted "Kid" Lewis, who put the sleeper on Babe Risko, middleweight champ, in one round, came to America only because he ran out of opponents on the other side.

Marcel Thill refused to give McAvoy a return match in Paris, where the boys say it is virtually impossible to beat the Frenchman. McAvoy has dropped only four decisions in 104 starts in five years and he has reversed them all except the one lost to Thill, which was very close after fifteen rounds. McAvoy knocked out two of those who bested him and took a decision in evening his score with Len Harvey.

Dave Lumsansky, the New Bedford insurance man, who has taken the veteran Charley Edwards' place as the leading importer of English cauliflower, doubts that Thill ever will appear in this country.

Thill, as bald as a billiard ball, and crowding thirty-eight is far from being a polished boxer but he is built like a dreadnaught and can take it until the gentle bovines head for the barn. He was good enough to repulse Vince Dundee when the New Jersey Italian was at his peak and only the other night finished in front of Lou Broillard.

The International Boxing Union recognizes Thill as the world middleweight champion, and he is the only outstanding attraction in Paris, where he collects a champion's percentage and where all agree he is well protected.

McAvoy weighed 165½ pounds for his initial New York bout with Al McCoy and only a quarter pound less for the one with Risko, but he declares he can do 160 without difficulty. He aims to box for both the middle and light heavyweight championships.

McAvoy combines to good advantage the old stand-up British style with the one more popular in American rings. Jock seldom holds on or clinches, takes a good belt, and there was enough power in his right fist to knock out eighty-one opponents.

The Britisher, who was christened Joseph Bamford, hails from Rochdale, which is situated in the midlands of Lancashire, up Manchester way. Jock spent his early life on a farm and further developed himself in a cool pit. He is twenty-five and the father of three children. He is rather goodlooking and a natty dresser. His hobby is racing horses and driving fine automobiles.

Both McAvoy and Lumsansky believe that Jack Peterson, the 185-pound Welshman, would make a go of it in America, but doubt he will make the trip. Only a highly profitable match would induce Peterson to board a boat.

Peterson meets Harvey in late January, and the winner is to be paired with Walter Neusel, who has twice defeated Peterson, cutting him above an eye and stopping him in their last battle.

As McAvoy and Lumsansky point out the fact that Peterson, who they say, can make 175 pounds, rules the division is a tip-off on the British heavyweight.

Max Schmelling is still the daddy of them all on the other side. The venerable Pierre Charles is still prominent. Andre Lenglet, the French champion, would be a six-round preliminary performer in America. Isadore Gassman, the Basque, probably should be rated next to Schmelling among foreign heavyweights.

There are no light heavyweights of any consequence either in England or on the continent. Eddie Phillips dropped the British cruiser title to Harvey.

Cleto Locatelli, the Italian now operating in New York, is the only writer of any worth in Europe.

Jack Kid Berg, who is far from what he was, regained the British lightweight championship from Harry Miesler, and is now campaigning in South Africa. Nel Tarleton, who is the feather ruler, is to tackle Berg when the erstwhile Whitechapel Limited returns to his native land. Seaman Watson is now a lightweight, and another fairly capable Briton at this poundage is Jimmy Walsh.

McAvoy and Lumsansky are confident that the bantamweight championship will go to England if Johnny King is matched with Sixto Escobar, the Puerto Rican. King contemplates a trip to America after the first of the year.

Benny Lynch took the British and I.B.U. flyweight championship from

Four Players In Fights As Wings Take Game 4 to 2

Aurie and Pettenger Account For Goals; Canadiens Take Boston 2 to 0

Rangers-Detroit In Tie For Lead

Substituting fists for the newspaper statements their managers have been tossing at each other, Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks are carrying on the battle, with the first engagement a distinct victory for Jack Adams' team.

Charges and counter-charges of stalling tactics by Adams and Manager Clem Loughlin of Hawks culminated yesterday evening in a riotous game at Chicago that Wings won 4 to 2. It brought them into a tie with New York Rangers for the National League's American division leadership. Rangers defeated Montreal Maroons 1 to 0 on Tuesday evening.

Meanwhile, Montreal's Canadiens were winning their fourth game of the season. Bruins were their victims 2 to 0 at Boston. A packed house of 15,000 came to see how the two coldest teams battle and got most of their action in the second period when Pete Lepine and Sylvio Mantha scored the game's two goals.

WILD ENCOUNTER

Four of the eleven penalties at Chicago were majors, Louis Trudel and Pete Kelly drew five minutes each when they tangled in the second period and Trudel came up with a badly cut right cheek.

Eddie Goodfellow and Eddie Ouellette took up the battle in the third and were both given majors. Detroit won the game through the mopping skill of Larry Aurie and Gordon Pettenger, who divided the four Wing goals evenly. They both scored in the first seven minutes before Wildor Laroche, former Canadian, got his first goal for Chicago.

Paul Thompson, Normie Smith, Wing goalie, on a penalty shot with only thirty-five seconds to play for the second Chicago goal. It was the first score by a penalty shot this season.

Summaries follow:

DETROIT-CHICAGO

First period—Detroit, Aurie (Barry), 3:45; 2, Detroit, Pettenger (H. Killea-Rose), 7:30; 3, Chicago, Laroche (Counter), 12:15. Penalty—Lewis.

MAT CARD IS NOW COMPLETE

King Elliott Will Meet Dr. Devora in Semi-windup Here Saturday Night

One of the finest heavyweight wrestling cards of this winter season will be presented at the Tiltium gym on Saturday evening, when four leading grapplers perform. In the eight ten-minute round main event, Tiger Daula, recently returned from India, will tackle rugged Bob Kruse from Oswego, Ore. In the five eight-minute round semi-windup, King Elliott, New Zealand, will oppose Dr. Devora, Providence, R.I.

The first bout, a local preliminary, will get under way at 8:45 o'clock. Elliott is well known to Victoria fans for his appearances here several months ago. He is a protégé of Tom Alley and one of the smartest wrestlers to show in a local ring. He returned from his native land last week and claims to be in great shape for another tour of America. Dr. Devora has shown here before and should be able to give the New Zealander a plenty tough battle.

With two such fine bouts down for decision the card should attract a large house.

EAST STARS IN WALKAWAY

Defeat West 19 to 3 In Annual Football Game at San Francisco

San Francisco, Jan. 2.—In football records of the New Year stood to-day a victory of east over west, with a 19 to 3 score, to commemorate the eleventh annual clash here between collegiate stars under the banner of charity.

Only once before has the New Year's Day game, played for the benefit of the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital, been so overwhelmingly decisive. The 1928 encounter, won by eastern stars, ended 20 to 0.

Just after the fourth period opened the west broke the deadlock with a field goal. John Sylvester, Rice Institute end, toed the leather through from the ten-yard line.

The successful place kick touched off the eastern powder keg and within the space of a few minutes, during the last part of the contest, the warriors from the east raced all over the field, intercepting two passes and recovering one fumble and converting each "break" into a touchdown.

New Orleans, Jan. 2.—An accurate place kick by Taldon Manton, held steady by the nimble hands of Sam Baugh, provided the victory margin of a football battle won in the rain yesterday afternoon by the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University over the Tigers of Louisiana State 3 to 2.

TO SETTLE WAGER

To the Sports Editor:—To decide a bet would you please state, through your daily paper, the ages of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at time of their last fight in Chicago?—SUBSCRIBER.

Dempsey was thirty-two years of age and Tunney was twenty-nine.—Sports Editor.

Jackie Brown, McAvoy and Lumsansky suspect that the Scotsman would stir up plenty of trouble for Young Montana, who beat Midget Wolcott on the coast this fall to gain American recognition.

Good fighters are even scarcer on the other side than they are in America, however, which is the real reason why there is so little action and so little money for practically every combatant except the phenomenal Joe Louis.

Strange as it seems, all the discoveries of medical science since medicine began have been unable to increase the span of human life. Man to-day lives to no ripe age than he did centuries ago when ill were treated with crude and sometimes worthless or even harmful "remedies."

Nor is there any reason to believe that science, on its past record, will be able to increase the life span. In spite of the great advances in public health and disease control, nothing has happened in the last hundred

The great success of medicine has been in increasing the average life— in giving everyone a greater expectancy of life. As each frontier is pushed back, and one after another disease is conquered and controlled, the average life increases. A newborn baby to-day has a much greater

CRICKET FANS GET REAL MAD

Crowd at Capetown Angered When Test Match Postponed; No Money Refunded

Capetown, Jan. 2.—Angered when officials refused to refund gate money following the postponement of the third test cricket match between Australia and South Africa yesterday on account of rain, a section of a large holiday crowd threatened to damage the playing pitch.

Before police could stop them several demonstrators in a crowd of about 300 actually succeeded in walking over the wicket, deliberately digging their heels in the carefully prepared turf in an attempt to make it unfit for play.

Police reinforcements were rushed to the ground and succeeded in getting the crowd outside. In view of the threats police remained on duty in the vicinity throughout the night.

Earlier the crowd had blocked entrances to the pavilion, throwing apples, oranges and tins into the building but police soon restored order.

BIG SEVEN OF MAJOR HOCKEY

Paul Thompson, Chicago Black Hawks, is back at the top of the National Hockey League's big seven to-day, sharing with Charlie Conacher and Bill Thoms, Toronto, the leadership he formerly held alone.

Thompson got that rarest of hockey rarities, a goal on a penalty shot, yesterday evening against Detroit. It gave him the league leadership in goals scored with ten.

Standings follow:

Team	Goals	Ass'ts	Pts
Thompson, Chicago	10	6	15
C. Conacher, Toronto	9	7	16
Thoms, Toronto	7	9	16
Bell, Toronto	9	6	15

Stanford Scores Great Grid Win

Seattle Signs Glenn Wright

Seattle, Jan. 2.—Glenn Wright, former ace shortstop for the Pittsburgh club of the National Baseball League, signed a contract yesterday to play for the Seattle Indians in the Pacific Coast League.

DON BRADMAN SCORES HIGH

Australian Cricketer Puts on 357 For Second Highest Total of Career

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 2.—Don Bradman, Australia's top-notch batsman, compiled 357 runs, the second highest score of his career in first class cricket, for South Australia in a Sheffield Shield match to-day against Victoria.

The team's total was 569 and against this the home team had made 124 for three wickets when play closed for the day.

At the wickets for seven hours, Bradman made 160 of his runs from boundary strokes. Holder of the highest individual score ever made, 492 against Queensland at Sydney in 1930, the South Australian hit up 233 against Queensland on Christmas Day.

In another Sheffield Shield match started New Year's Day at Sydney, Queensland to-day made 330 runs for eight wickets in response to New South Wales' total of 366.

SAINTS AND RANGERS TIE

Battle to 4 to 4 Deadlock in Intercity League Football Engagement

Vancouver, Jan. 2.—Three fast goals in the last twenty minutes of the game gave the St. Saviours' soccer eleven a 4 to 4 draw with the Vancouver Rangers in an Intercity League fixture at, Cen Jones Park yesterday.

The Saints fell behind from the start when they introduced Norm Thompson, former St. Andrew's reminder, in their goal. Thompson got off to a bad start and had trouble clearing.

Bothwell opened the scoring for the Rangers and Kiedde made it 2 to 0 a few minutes later with a hard drive from close in.

Moffat of the Saints grabbed a loose ball near the Ranger net, after some "kickety" footwork, boomed it into the Ranger net, but Bothwell came right back for the Rangers a few minutes later to make it 3 to 1 at half time.

Right after the restart Bothwell again came into the spotlight with a smart bit of play which resulted in another goal for Rangers.

With only twenty minutes left to play and three goals down, the Saints came to life.

Using passing combinations the ball was worked down the field where Spencer banged it in. McMurdo, who was playing with a broken toe, took advantage of a marvelous chance when the ball was centered in front of the goal mouth and made no mistake. A few minutes later Spencer again got control of the sphere near the Ranger net and gave the Saints the draw with a beautiful drive.

Juveniles to Open Final Half Play

Soccer eleven in the Lower Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League will open play in their second half schedule Saturday morning, with two fixtures carded.

Hill's Corner and Victoria West Cubs will clash in the feature at Victoria West Park with W. J. Cull as referee.

Wimpy's Capitals, first-half champions, will engage Esquimalt Meat Market squad at Bullen Park. E. Borda will handle the whistle.

Both games will start at 10:30 o'clock.

The Victoria West Cubs line-up will be as follows: Renfrew, Page, Smart, Watson, Kennedy, Rowell, Murdoch, Cosley-Brown, Muir, Davies, Lee, Booth, Whittle, Minnis, Dunaway, Wells and Grogan.

Players are asked to be at the ground at 10 o'clock and also to remember the meeting at the Y.M.C.A. to-night at 7 o'clock.

TRAIL CAPTURES ROUGH ICE TILT

Nelson, Jan. 2.—Trail Smokeeaters took a 4 to 1 victory over the Nelson Maple Leafs in a bruising game played here yesterday afternoon, in a West Kootenay Commercial Hockey League fixture. The game was too rough for good hockey but had a crowd of 2,100 in a frenzy throughout. A free-for-all just before the bell ended the second period took several minutes to straighten up and Bill McKay, Nelson goalie, was sent to the penalty bench for a minute. Trail scored its second goal while he was off.

M.C.C. TEAM WINS

Dunedin, N.Z., Jan. 2.—Despite a fine second innings recovery by Otago, Marylebone Cricket Club touring team to-day won the match by an innings and 115 runs. The home players made 78 and 297 against the M.C.C.'s big total of 550.

Lowly Aston Villa Marks Up Smashing Soccer Victory

Last-place Team Beats Sunderland In Holiday Match

Score Is 3 to 1 Against English League Leaders at Roker Park

RANGERS TURN BACK CELTIC

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 2.—Putting up a desperate battle to avoid relegation to the second division of the English Football League, Aston Villa featured the abbreviated New Year's Day schedule by defeating Sunderland, league leader, 3 to 1, at Roker Park.

The unexpected reverse does not affect Sunderland's seven-point lead as its nearest rivals were idle. Games were confined to north of England cities.

Grimby Town performed in great style at Maine Road to win 3 to 0 from Manchester City, Bolton Wanderers obtained a 4 to 0 decision over Portsmouth and Blackburn Rovers and Middlesbrough also captured maximum points.

SECOND DIVISION

In the second division, Sheffield United went into a tie with Doncaster Rovers for third place by downing them 3 to 0, and Bradford was victorious over Leicester City, 3 to 1. Chesterfield, runner-up to Tranmere Rovers in the third division, northern section, was held to a 2 to 2 draw by Rochdale.

No games were scheduled in the southern section.

Glasgow, Jan. 2.—Registering their second win in the New Year holiday programme, Glasgow Rangers to-day jumped ahead of Celtic in the race for Scottish football championship honors to take second place, two points behind the leading Dons of Aberdeen.

The champions and cupholders won 3 to 1 from Partick Thistle at Ibrox Park while Dunfermline Athletic drew 3 to 3 with Aberdeen at Pittodrie. The Celtic were idle. Aberdeen now has forty-one points, but has played one more game than Rangers and two more than Celtic, which has thirty-eight points. Yesterday the Rangers defeated Celtic, 4 to 3.

Motherwell gained further ground with a 2 to 0 verdict over Albion Rovers at Coatbridge and Hearts, at home, made it 3 to 0 over Dundee. At Murrion Park, Perth, Hibernians did well to beat St. Johnstone 3 to 2. Kilmarnock smashed out a 7 to 2 victory over the last-place Ayr United team and Third Lanark scored the only goal of the game at City.

Only one game was played in the second division, Dundee United and Brechin City battling to a 2 to 2 draw.

TWO TIES IN COAST HOCKEY

Vancouver and Portland and Calgary and Seattle Play Stalemates

The Seattle Sea Hawks took undisputed possession of fourth place in the Northwest Hockey League yesterday after splitting the points with the Tigers at Calgary 3 to 3, while the crippled Vancouver Lions managed to hang grimly to their one-point lead in the standings by holding the Bucaroos of Portland to a 1 to 1 draw on Vancouver ice.

Carl Sorenson put the Tigers in the scoring column first on a pass from Ernie Anderson for the only tally of the first period in Calgary's New Year's day game, but Sammy McAdam wriggled through the Tiger defence less than thirty seconds after the start of the second period to tie the score. Less than three minutes later Ward took a pass from Savage for the second Tiger goal, and Chris Sorenson put Calgary two ahead on a lone effort. Seattle retaliated with two quick goals, the first by Lafrance on a pass from Lyons and the second by McAdam with Houbre getting the assist, to tie the score.

The first three periods passed without a penalty being handed out, but McAdam spoiled the chances for a clean sheet when he was sent to the cooler in the overtime session.

VANCOUVER GAME

The Lion-Buck contest was marred shortly after the start by an accident when Herb Rheunne, subbing in the Vancouver nets for the injured Johnny Clark, sprawled on the ice to save a hard drive. He was struck in the face by the rubber and knocked out. It took six stitches on the inside and six more on the outside to close a cheek wound, but he went back to his goal and played a splendid game.

A few minutes after resuming the first period a shot by Blyth on a pass from Cooney Kunsman caught the corner of the Vancouver net—putting Portland 1 up.

The Lions second-string line, Dyck, Palm and Sheppard, made the play to even it up. After keeping the puck in Portland territory on a passing combination, Palm beat down a smart pass by Dyck at the goalmouth, and Dyck, best Aitkenhead cleanly with a backhand shot.

Despite lightning fast thrusts by both teams during the third and overtime sessions, defences worked to perfection and both finally seemed satisfied to accept a draw.

HOLIDAY GOLF AT OAK BAY COURSE

Scoring a gross 90, which their handicap reduced to a net 71, Capt. and Mrs. C. I. MacKenzie won the mixed foursomes played at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday. S. A. Haynes and Miss E. Heisterman took second place with a net 74.

There were twenty-four entries. Scores follow:

	Hcp.	Net

WESTS AND CITY IN SOCCER WINS

net to garner the opening tally of the match.

The next few minutes saw the Wests take the upper hand. They gave their outside-right, Tutthill, a number of fine chances to score, but he appeared to be off color, and shot wide of his mark. The Wests continued to press heavily, and DeCosta was kept busy for a while watching his goal. He cleared a beautiful drive at this point.

Scotty Stewart, smooth-working inside-right, boosted Requilmit's score another point after twenty-five minutes of play when he scored into an empty goal during a melee near the posts. The teams surged up and down the field during the rest of the half with neither registering. The score at the breather stood 2 to 0 for Requilmit.

Requilmit's shooting, at the resumption of play was erratic, and they missed three attempts at the net. Another forward movement on the part of the Victoria West forwards, soon reversed the play into the other end of the field, where a fine combination play between Gordie Bell and Watt resulted in the latter countering with a drive into the corner of the net.

Following the tally the Dockers staged a determined attack, but again their shooting was not up to standard. Victoria West soon repulsed the rally, took the play into the other territory, where, after clearances had been made a number of times, Johnny Watt registered again on a solo effort to deadlock the teams 2 to 2.

After witnessing some good full-back work being done during the next few minutes by Cook, Requilmit left fullback, Noel Morgan, inside-right for Victoria West, garnered the winning tally of match with but five minutes to go.

Roy Barnes, centre half, made his first appearance on the local field since his return to the city. Doug Laird, who was presiding in the Wests goal in the place of Restell, who failed to turn out, turned in a good exhibition.

J. C. Dows deferred.

The teams follow:

Victoria Wests—Laird, H. Bell, Restell, Thompson, Barnes, Okell, Lorrain, G. Bell, Watt, Morgan, Brown and Tutthill.

Requilmit—DeCosta, Watt, Cook, Edmonds, Evans, Boyd, Barnswell, Stewart, E. DeCosta, Worwick, Hay and Bishard.

VICTORIA CITY WINS

Starting out with an even nine men apiece, Victoria City and Saanich Thistles gave the fans a fair exhibition considering the muddy condition of the field and the greatness of the ball.

Pushing in on a fast offensive play, Victoria City soon put themselves in the scoring zone and Robbins missed a set-up when his shot went wide of the goal. Five minutes of play resulted in the City forwards manoeuvring in around the Saanich goal mouth and George Payne tallied to register the first of the City's two goals.

As a man each was added to the respective line-ups, Bob Pearce scored on a weak shot which trickled past Goale Chalmers of Thistles to make it 2 to 0 for Victoria City.

Saanich rallied in the final minutes of the first period with several fine short passing attacks with plenty of short passing and foot work being displayed.

The second half was even less eventful than the first period, featuring many mistakes and faulty passing. Victoria City goalies left his goal exposed several times when he came out to clear from a muddy goal mouth and only the greatness of the ball prevented Thistle forwards from registering on these occasions.

W. Robb refereed.

The teams follow:

Victoria City—Rowe, Halket, Smith, Robbins, Peers, Moore, Price, Pearce, J. Payne, G. Payne and Gibbons.

Saanich Thistles—Stofer, Leggat, McLean, Crowe, Speller, A. Murray, Heatherington, Gent, Clancy and J. Murray.

Eight Wickets Down in Test Cricket Against South Africa at Capetown

Capetown, Jan. 2.—A great first-wicket partnership by J. H. Fingleton and W. A. Brown gave Australia a good start in the third test cricket match against South Africa to-day, but the remaining batsmen gave only poor support and at the close eight wickets were down for 488 runs. Singleton and Brown put on twenty-three before the former was dismissed for a well-played 112. Brown was third out at 251 after having twelve. A. O. Chipperfield and Charles Grimmett each obtained thirty. Grimmett being unbeaten at the adjournment.

FINE BOWLING

The sudden reverse in Australia's fortunes was due to a fine spell of bowling by Balaskas, young Greek spin bowler, playing in his second match since he was forced out of the game in the middle of South Africa's English tour last summer through an elbow injury. He captured four wickets.

Australia won the first test at Durban and the second at Johannesburg ended in a draw.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A relief loan of $5,500 to North Vancouver district was authorized today by the provincial government.

The provincial government today established a coding-moth control area in the city of Vernon and the Vernon school district and Coldstream municipality.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A. plan to go ahead with the partitioning off of the Y.M.C.A. bobby next Monday. Alterations will also be made to the office.

The British Columbia Court of Appeal will begin its first sitting of the new year on January 14 in Victoria. January 10 has been fixed as closing date for listing appeals to be heard.

Gong, a Chinese, of 626 Chatham Street, suffered a gash over the eye when he was knocked down by a car on Johnson Street yesterday afternoon, according to a city police report. The driver of the car is unknown. The Chinaman was pushing a handcart and after he was knocked down he told the police the driver kept going.

Mary Lindsey, 2632 Cook St., widow of Ashborn Pederson Ek, former police chief of Shanghai, China, has applied to the courts here for naturalization as a Canadian. She was born at Hamilton, Lanarkshire, Scotland, and was married to the police chief at Shanghai. Upon his retirement, they came in May, 1927, to Victoria to make their home. Mr. Ek, who was well known in club circles, died here in July, 1931. Mrs. Ek has been set down to appear for public hearing on her application before Judge Lampman on April 6.

The last Hindu case of the old year before the courts, the combined one of Mohan Singh against Kirpa and Mohan Singh against Karm Shand, has ended with Mr. Justice Robertson of the Supreme Court awarding $500 damages against Karm Shand. Mohan sued for damages for malicious prosecution in the police court of Mohan on a false preference charge, arising out of the borrowing of $800 from Karm. Mr. Justice Robertson said he found that Karm had no reasonable cause for prosecuting Mohan and was actuated by malice, but he found no malice on the part of Kirpa. However, after awarding Mohan $500 damages, the judge awarded Karm judgment on his counter-claim for $800 and interest at 5 per cent from October 14, 1934.

WILD SHOOTING IS CRITICIZED

Does Left to Die in Woods
By Careless Hunters

In an effort to combat the carelessness shown in the shooting of deer by hunters, the provincial game commission has asked for suggestions from Victoria Fish and Game Association. Many deer have been shot daily throughout the deer hunting season and left in the woods to decay. This is due to hunters shooting before they have made certain whether or not the deer has spikes. When finding they have shot does some of the hunters make a hasty exit from the vicinity because of the penalty inflicted upon persons caught after shooting a doe.

The local organization will at the next meeting, which is to be held in the near future, consider suggestions on the subject. A number of the suggestions to be put forth at the meeting will include one that a reward be offered for information of a person or persons shooting a doe. Another suggestion is that persons, on shooting a doe, forthwith report to the Provincial Game Department, where he or she will be obliged to pay a small bounty or royalty for the final week of the year. To keep the meat, third suggestion is that the season be thrown open to the shooting of both sex.

Attack Report
Investigated

Provincial Police After Youths Who Slugged Port
Renfrew Man

Provincial police today were investigating an alleged attack on D. J. Robertson, manager of the government liquor store at Port Renfrew last Sunday. Mr. Robertson told the police he caught two youths attempting to rob the store. When he called to them they turned on him and one is alleged to have slapped him over the head. He was rendered partly unconscious by the blow and the youths escaped.

He told police he could identify one of the men and named the other in his message. Upon receipt of word of the attack, provincial police headquarters here notified the P.M.L. T. station at Port Alberni to conduct an investigation but the ship has been unable to get past Banfield owing to severe storms.

Constable Carmichael was dispatched from divisional headquarters here yesterday evening about the St. Francis Magdalen and should have reached Port Renfrew this morning.

SUNSHINE INN
SERVES DINNER

New Year's Banquet Brings
Happiness to 147 Men,
Women and Children

For 147 of the needy people of Victoria, fifty-one of them children and eight women, the new year began yesterday with an excellent dinner at Sunshine Inn. Dinner was served at two sittings, with ninety-six present the first time and fifty-one the second.

Turkey, baked ham, dressing, mashed potatoes, Brussels sprouts, apple sauce, cranberry sauce, celery, plum pudding, mince pie, bread and butter, tobacco for the grown-ups and candy for the children as well as oranges and apples for all were on the bill of fare.

The dinner was made possible through the efforts of Captain Burgess J. Gadsden, founder of the Sunshine Inn, and the co-operation of a number of voluntary helpers and of local concerns, and individuals who provided the good things to eat.

Contributions were received from Crown Meat Market, the Ideal Meat Market, J. H. Mutton, the Kiwanis Club, the Hudson's Bay Company, Terry's, the Vancouver Drug Company, the Metropolitan Stores, Woolworth's, W. R. Clubb, Imperial Tobacco, A. M. Morris Limited, the Pacific Hotel and Kent's Piano Company. An anonymous Chinese friend of the Inn contributed the Brussels sprouts and Brown's Nurseries donated flowers to decorate tables.

The voluntary helpers included Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Mrs. Arthur Hinder, Miss Mabel Marshall, Mrs. K. E. Knowles, Miss Devereux, Mrs. B. Gadsden, G. Lee-Warner, Dr. R. Bremner and A. B. Norris.

Mr. Norris had charge of the preparations for the dinner and Mr. Bremner received and welcomed the guests.

Captain Gadsden this morning saw a hopeful sign for Victoria in the reduction of the number attending the dinner, and in the drop in the number of meals served at the Inn during the month of December. Against yesterday's 147, on last New Year's Day 183 sat down to the annual dinner. During December, 1935, 4,502 meals were served, against 4,818 in December, 1934.

The Kapoor Lumber Company was granted a certificate of approval by the provincial government today for a logging railway extending south-easterly from mile 36.5 on the Canadian National Railway, and for two level crossings over the provincial highway in the Malahat district.

ACHIEVEMENT OF
LAURIER PRAISED

Ottawa, Jan. 2.—Negotiation of the treaty under which the International Joint Commission functions was described today by Sir Robert Borden as "the most striking episode in the splendid career of Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

In a statement issued on the retirement of Charles A. Macraeth from the post of chairman of the Canadian section of the commission, Sir Robert paid tribute to the work done by Mr. Macraeth.

Obituary

EMILY ROSKELLEY

Funeral services for Mrs. Emily Roskelley were conducted by Rev. O. L. Jull on Tuesday afternoon, in the presence of many sympathizing friends. The hymns sung were "Dear God, to Thee" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Beautiful floral tributes were received. The following were the pallbearers: C. A. Goodwin, C. Barnes, E. Kirkbride, P. Hancock, W. Mills and W. G. Owen. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

BELEND MESSER

Mrs. Belinda Messer of 905 Elery Street passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital this morning, aged sixty-six years. Mrs. Messer was born in Labrador and came to Victoria to reside in 1920. She is survived by one son, Albert Edward Messer of Victoria, two sisters and two brothers in Labrador, one sister in Niagara Falls, N.Y., also four grandchildren in this city.

Funeral services will be conducted on Saturday at 1:30 o'clock, in the St. Andrew's chapel. Rev. J. A. Hughes will officiate and the remains will be laid to rest in the Ross Bay Cemetery.

THOMAS SHINGLES

At the Jubilee Hospital yesterday evening, the death occurred of Thomas Shingles of 549 Colvina Road, an elderly gentleman. Mr. Shingles was born in London, England, and had been a resident of this city for twenty-eight years. He is survived by one son, Herbert, with whom he resided, and three grandchildren. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

ELIZA DENLEY

The funeral of Eliza Denley was held Tuesday morning in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Rev. Father T. Geukers celebrated mass at 9 o'clock. Interment was in Ross Bay Cemetery. The pallbearers were: J. A. Bates, W. Hamilton, J. E. Hamilton, E. J. Galvin, C. G. Briggs and J. Forsythe.

JOHN MACLEAN

The funeral of the late John MacLean was held yesterday, Rev. F. L. Stephenson officiating. Many friends attended the service. Mr. MacLean, president of C. A. Gill, secretary, and comrades of Pro Patria Branch Canadian Legion B.E.S.L.: Mrs. Ricketts and Mrs. Ripley of the Women's Auxiliary to Pro Patria Branch, members of the Naval Veterans B.E.S.L. and members of United Service Lodge A.P. & A.M., attended the service. The casket, draped with the Union Jack, was surrounded with many flowers. The hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages." The pallbearers were F. H. Saunders, J. Mott, T. Watson, J. B. Williams, J. A. Sheriff of Pro Patria Branch, and Murdo MacLean. Interment took place in Colwood Burial Park.

MARGARET MARTIN

The death occurred at Tranquille Sanatorium, near Kamloops, on Tuesday of Margaret Martin, wife of Frederick Martin of 1939 Brighton Avenue, Victoria, aged thirty years. Mrs. Martin was born in England and came to Victoria fifteen years ago. She had been a patient at Tranquille for the last fifteen months, and is survived by her husband and one son, Freddie, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Burnett, one sister and two brothers, all in Victoria.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

KATE WHEADON

A large congregation of friends attended funeral services at St. Matthias Church, Tuesday afternoon, for the late Mrs. Kate Wheadon, of 1640 Hollywood Crescent.

Rev. Dr. T. E. Rowe, pastor of St. Matthias, and Rev. Frank H. Buck, chaplain of the Victoria Unit Army and Navy Veterans, officiated, reading which two hymns, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Jerusalem the Golden" were sung.

The many beautiful floral tributes received testified to the very high esteem in which the late Mrs. Wheadon was held. These included flowers from the Cathedral orchestra, members of the Department of Education, manager and staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, the civic service sports club, the staff of the Royal Central School, Victoria, and District Teachers' Association, Board of School Trustees of Victoria, Ladies' Auxiliary of the Army and Navy Veterans, Britannia Lodge No. 73, A.F. and A.M. B.C. Provincial Command and Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, and officers and members of the Army and Navy Unit No. 12.

The following acted as pallbearers: Capt. W. Brown, E. Housley, Roy Lund, J. J. Rippon, N. P. Forbes and George Anstey. The remains were forwarded to Seattle for cremation.

FERNIE ISSUES ARE CANCELED

Bonds Held in Sinking Funds
Wiped Off; No Interest
Being Paid

In the process of straightening out the affairs of the city of Fernie, now under commissionship, the provincial government today authorized the cancellation of $341,000 in outstanding bonds which are held in the municipal sinking funds.

The issues cancelled had maturity dates running from 1935 to 1943. Since no interest is being paid on these, and there is little prospect of paying any, they were written off, leaving only the net debt to be handled, it was explained.

The gross debt of Fernie was $538,000. By cancelling the city bonds that were held in the sinking funds, this was reduced to $197,000. There is another $82,459 in the sinking fund for other securities to be applied against this, leaving the net debt at roughly $117,000.

CITY COUNCIL
SEES ITSELF

Rotary, Gyro, Revellers and Kiwanis Club Members
Stage Burlesque at Lunch

It was Alice-Through-The-Looking-Glass time for Victoria's City Council in the Empress Hotel ballroom at noon today. Mayor David Legging and members of the council sat as guests at a joint luncheon of the Rotary, Gyro, Kiwanis, Revellers' and Himsen's clubs and watched an excellent take-off of themselves in session.

The mock council meeting was staged by a cast picked from the service clubs, and was introduced by Duncan McBride. The performance was filled with subtle jibes at the peculiarities and pet theories of each member.

The cast was as follows: Mayor Leeming, George L. Warren; Alderman James Adams, Jack Mackay; Alderman Walter Loney, Art Dowe; Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, Ken Ferguson; Alderman Thomas Hawkins, Harold Diggon; Alderman Andrew McGavin, Harry Davis; Alderman P. R. Brown, Leslie Coburn; Alderman Robert Dewar, Bill Hudson; Alderman Ed Williams, Everett Taylor; Alderman Archie Willis, Dudley Wickett; Alderman Stan Okell, A. Todd; and City Clerk Frank Hunter, T. J. Goodlake.

EXCERPTS FROM MEETING

The meeting was supposed to be the first of this year's new council. Random selections from the events of the meeting were:

Alderman Williams walking in and taking Mayor Leeming's coat. Mayor Leeming drawing a picture of an industrial Victoria with smokestacks artistically blending with the scenery, ships flocking to the grain elevators, and the woolen mills clothing the whole Dominion.

The mayor envisaging the Publicity Bureau doing its own financing. Alderman McGavin asking a $500,000 grant to the bureau to permit it to put live sea gulls on every sign.

Alderman Hawkins suggesting a Mount Douglas Park with hundreds of caged canaries singing into amplifiers.

Alderman Loney seeking a movable roof to cover McDonald Park. Alderman Dewar suggesting that Horseshoe Bay and McDonald Park be transferred to the market building.

Alderman McGavin seeking traffic lights on Lover's Row on the Dallas Road and stop signs everywhere.

Alas! "I've been trying to put a stop to something for years." Tenders being called for an amusement park chute for the fire hall to take the place of the present pole.

Alderman Adam asking Alderman Hunter how he was getting along with garbage disposal. Alderman Hunter replying that he was considering making playgrounds out of the garbage, and Alderman Willis suggesting that the bubonic plague germs from the rats which would congregate there be shipped in culture to Halle Solais.

Alderman Dewar saying: "The street car system is in a state of decay, the equipment is obsolete and the operators are senile and decayed."

Mayor Leeming asking an investigation of the state of the Department of Education. "The question seems to have a bearing on the development of our tourist trade."

And finally "The Ghost of Johnny" chiming in at the end of the meeting. Alderman Brown and Okell were introduced to the meeting by J. V. Johnson, vice-president of the Rotary Club; Alderman Hawkins, Willis and Williams by Bill Loney, Kiwanis Club president; Alderman Adams, Dewar and Loney by President Waldo Skilling of the Gyro Club; and Alderman McGavin and City Clerk Hunter by Roland Kay of the Revelers.

Mayor David Leeming was introduced by Herbert Pendray, Rotary Club president, who was chairman at the luncheon.

The mayor spoke briefly, expressing hope in the return of prosperity during the coming year, while pointing to the difficulties of the present situation.

Members of the various clubs joined in community singing under the leadership of Frank Sehl, Ed Mallick, Bill Hudson and Dudley Wickett. Music was supplied by a joint club orchestra.

MANY ATTEND
"OPEN HOUSE"

Interesting Programme at
Y.M.C.A. New Year's Day

Over 300 visitors attended the Y.M.C.A. "open house" programme on New Year's Day when the local institution was open for inspection.

Refreshments were served by the girls' auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., Mrs. E. G. Rowebottom, Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, Mrs. Archie Willis and Miss Maxwell.

The musical programme was in charge of Mrs. W. A. Jameson. The features of the physical programme were the basketball game between the junior business men and the Y intermediate team and the volleyball exhibition given by the senior business men.

Bob Gordon led the junior employed class in its part of the programme. N. Collins led the senior leader corps on the side parallel bars. The junior leader corps was in charge of Bob Anderson.

Theft of a quantity of postage stamps and three donut fountain pens from the Victoria Box and Paper Company, 1202 Wharf Street, was reported to the city police this morning. The officers were ransacked and employees' coat pockets rifled.

Smartest Cafe
Served One Meal

Wrecking Gangs Will Soon
Move In at Davey Jones's
Locker, Where Nobody
Ever Paid to Eat

Victoria's smartest cafe has only served one meal. Nobody paid to eat there. And now the whole place is to be torn down.

The cafe is made in the shape of the inside of an old wooden sailing ship. It is very nautical in decoration. Ship's bells hang over the booths for summoning the waiter. The lighting is by old-fashioned lamps and port and starboard lights. The walls are decorated with ship wheels and other nautical fittings and portraits look out onto the world.

"Davey Jones' Locker" is the title of this original cafe where the lighting is filtered through fishing nets draped on the ceiling, and falls on tables and floor in a soft cobweb pattern win, where it always stood. Sir Samuel is given tremendous ovation as he explains his position to Parliament, and is compelled to resign. Mr. Albert attacks Alberta electors for wanting $25 a month. All nations agree that Ethiopia and League must be saved. Japan finds it necessary in the interests of world peace to take over most of China and nobody cares. General European war is forecast for next year. World enjoys merry Christmas. Due to improvement in conditions and better prospects everywhere, New Year's Eve celebrations are wildcat in history.

Eddie Kane, veteran screen actor and Broadway character, has been added to the cast of "It Had To Happen," in production at a Hollywood studio.

James Tinsling will direct "Every Saturday Night," which has been started at Twentieth Century-Fox. Consigned to Shirley Temple, a shipment of Maine lobsters arrived at her studios via air transport, twenty-four hours after being taken from the sea off the coast of New England. They are for her new picture, "Captain January."

An entire research staff was given six months' employment to assure technical accuracy in "So Red the Rose."

WARNING!

The Times urges its correspondents to restrict their contributions to 600 words. Henceforth it positively will not print communications which exceed that length.

These letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the names and addresses of the writers, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

Letters not used will not be returned to the writers. Letters containing offensive personal reflections will not be printed.

These rules, which henceforth will be carried out absolutely, are designed as much for the protection of our patient readers as for that of The Times.

CAUTION!

The Times will not assume responsibility for the return to the writers of articles sent for publication in the Correspondence Column or anywhere else in this newspaper, whether they are published or not, unless they have been specially solicited.

STRAITS OF JUAN DE FUCA

To the Editor:—In all fairness to the announcer, Mr. Dick Claringbull, of the Christmas Day broadcast from the thirteenth periscope hole of the Oak Bay golf links, may I be permitted to reply to the letter in The Times under date of December 28, signed by M. L. Cummins of 745 Yates Street, Victoria. I would suggest that Mr. Cummins go out to the Oak Bay golf links, and stand on the thirteenth periscope tee, and he will see for himself not only Haro Strait but the Straits of Juan de Fuca, also Mt. Baker, San Juan Island, the Olympic Mountains and a wonderful scenic view. I think if Mr. Cummins had made some mention of the broadcast, as a boost to the mid weather prevailing here at this time of year, and also our city, he would have been more to the point, than finding fault with the geographic surroundings that did not exist.

ERNEST D. TODD.
508 Island Road.

THANKS

To the Editor:—Through the medium of your paper, I should like to express to "The Native Sons of Canada" the thanks and appreciation of the Lake Hill C.G.I.T. group, for their generous donation of dishes and also for pricing their piano very low, thereby making it possible for us to buy it for our new mission hall. We are deeply grateful for this assistance.

KATHLEEN CAMPBELL.
President of Lake Hill C.G.I.T.
R.M.D. No. 3, McKenzie Ave.

DIRTY STREETS

To the Editor:—I wish to draw the attention of the public and more particularly the attention of our public governing body, His Worship and council, to the filthy and disgraceful state of the city sidewalks this morning (or any other morning). To point the moral and illustrate an instance, take a look in front of a store on Yates Street.

When I am lord mayor of Greater Victoria you will all stifle and sweep off the pavement (sidewalk) in front of your stores, offices, buildings or vacant lots by 8 o'clock a.m., and be very particular about the corners and niches at the foot of pillars, columns and cornices supporting front elevation of your locations.

In Britain and we Victorians think we are so English, Scottish, Irish or Welsh, etc., the deepest depths of the slums are always far cleaner than the streets and sidewalks of Victoria's main thoroughfares ever are. Right down in Whitechapel or Seven Dials you could sit down and picnic, any time within the past fifty years, without soiling your clothes very much, if at all.

Why, sir, I don't believe our mayor

Matheson Lang In Film at the Empire

Minute accuracy is faithfully followed in the production of "Drake of England," being presented at the Empire Theatre. This week-end British production has in the leading role of Sir Francis Drake, Matheson Lang, who is supported by Athene Seyler as Queen Elizabeth and Jane Baxter as Elizabeth Sydenham.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Clad in pantheons and crinolines, Shirley Temple is now enacting the most lovable of Confederates in that grand story of the Civil War, "The Littlest Rebel," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

Because of Shirley's responsiveness and its many scenes of tender pathos, "The Littlest Rebel" gives Shirley her first real opportunity as a dramatic actress, while her capacity for song, dance and laughter never fails to astonish and delight audiences.

The picture, from Darryl F. Zanuck's 20th Century-Fox studio, follows closely the outlines of the famous play from which it was adapted. John Boles and Karen Morley play Shirley's parents, while Jack Holt is cast as the gallant Union officer, who attempts to slay Shirley and her father in an hour after her mother succumbs to the rigors of war.

and council (personally speaking) ever see much of the city itself. They just circle around inside the City Hall, having a good time between themselves; but if they were taken out individually and dropped off at different points, not on their home routes, they would be all lost!

J. STAFFORD.
2617 Graham Street, January 1.

THANKS

To the Editor:—Through the columns of your paper the committee of the Oak Bay Friendly Help would like to thank Miss Dermot Baillie and her group of carol singers for their thoughtfulness during this Christmas season.

Once again they placed several loads of fuel at our disposal, and enabled us to put warmth and cheer into homes where it was badly needed.

ELEANOR HUDSON.
Oak Bay Avenue, December 31.

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—I am instructed by the members of the Victoria Scrop-tist Club to thank you for the many and your editorial staff for your much valued and helpful co-operation during the past year.

We very much appreciate your kindness and unfailing courtesy and hope that with our thanks you will also accept many good wishes for a successful and prosperous New Year.

DORA W. ATKINS,
Corresponding Secretary,
December 30.

ABYSSINIA

To the Editor:—The warfare still continues in Abyssinia, and perhaps will continue further yet. No one of us knows what will be the outcome of all this that is taking place in many countries at the present time. It is known what has been taking place so far, but what may take place from now on is not quite so easy to tell. But there is one thing I am quite sure about. It is this—the Italian never will be able to take Abyssinia, unless all those other Latin countries should happen to take a notion to side in with them. Who else would do that? None!

HAROLD HESKIN.
617 Yates Street, Victoria, B.C.,
December 31.

CHRISTMAS CHEERS

To the Editor:—Would you kindly publish the following note of thanks to Reeve Crouch and the voluntary workers who succeeded in supplying the Christmas cheer to the needy families in Saanich. I can assure you, sir, my family and I appreciate every success for the coming year.

SAANICH, DEC. 30, 1935.

"SPEED-UP"

To the Editor:—In your editorial of December 23 under the heading "Speed-up in Russia," you appeared to either deliberately camouflage the real issue at stake, or at the very least to possess such a superficial knowledge and understanding of the Stakhanov "speed-up" that unintentionally you misinterpreted it.

One of the many points you appeared to overlook was that in capitalist countries the speed-up of production indicates more fat, juicy profits for the individual capitalist, or capitalist corp., as the case may be. In any instance, however, the industrial working-class are excluded from any share in the profits which they themselves have made possible.

In the Soviet just the reverse is true: there the "speed-up" indicates increased value to be distributed among all the citizens and not to just a small group of individuals who hold the reins at the top.

It all boils down to this, namely, that in Russia everyone shares equally in any new invention, so that the workers are in reality working for themselves as all profits resulting from the recent "speed-up" will be distributed among the workers, while in capitalist countries all profits resulting from a "speed-up" go to an individual or tiny group of individuals. Thus it is not hard to see why the capitalists condemn communism.

Also in your editorial you said that the Russians have a "way all their own" of dealing with discontent, namely, prison terms. Of course, Mr. Editor, you have never heard of people in Canada, or for that matter in any capitalist country serving prison terms for "disturbing the peace" and "disobeying" the newspaper dispatches so tactfully put it. That fact, of course, is in kind consideration for the poor capitalist who might get his feelings hurt, if (Turn to Page 18, Col. 7)

BETTE DAVIS AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Popular Actress Plays Leading Role Opposite George Brent in "Special Agent"

Bette Davis and George Brent, again paired as screen lovers in the new Cosmopolitan production, "Special Agent," a Warner Bros. picture, will open at the Playhouse Theatre to-day.

The picture is said to reveal the inner workings of the United States Treasury Department, showing an entirely new angle of the government's activities in wiping out the nation's public enemies.

The story is crammed with tense dramatic situations in which secret service operatives face death in order to run down criminals and get evidence to convict them. Thrilling adventure and daring exploits follow every step of the secret operatives in their battle with the "killers."

Brent, in the role of a newspaper reporter on a New York daily, also allied with the government as an undercover man, is trying to get evidence against the crooks and at the same time, his sweetheart, who is Miss Davis, his sweetheart, who is wittingly has taken a job as the personal secretary to the head of the band.

Being shown as the second feature are Karen Morley and Edward Everett Horton in "410 Hales."

Joe Penner Will Be Featured Here

Joe Penner is back on the screen, again with Jack Oakie but minus his famous duck. The new Penner picture, "Collegiate," which also has Ned Sparks, Lynne Overman and lovely Frances Langford in the cast, will open to-morrow at the Dominion Theatre.

Instead of "Wanna Buy a Duck?" and "Woe is me!" as his catch-words, Penner screams "Policeman! Policeman!" at the least provocation in his second Paramount production.

It is a swell musical, crammed with original comedy situations, sparkling with plenty of music by that unmatchable combination, Gordon and Heyhl, and legions of beautiful girls. The story tells how Jack Oakie, Broadway playboy, inherits a girl's boarding school from his aunt. His handy-man, Lynne Overman, and his anti-publicity agent, Ned Sparks, get Oakie out of jail in time for the reading of the will, then start out for the newly-acquired school with him. On the way they meet Joe Penner, who is a victim of amnesia. The four join forces and proceed to the school, which proves a major disappointment because of its mid-Victorian atmosphere.

Columbia Shows 'Best Man Wins'

Jules Verne would have been delighted to see "The Best Man Wins," Columbia film featuring Edmund Lowe and Jack Holt, which opens to-day at the Columbia Theatre. His eyes would behold in fantastic realism the fulfillment of one of his amazing fictional prognostications. Unbelieving, he would witness a man in a diving helmet walking the ocean floor with the casual indifference of a Fifth Avenue pedestrian. Truly, a page out of his wildest dreams—and accomplished without any of the tricks of which the movies are capable.

Also being shown on the same programme is Buck Jones in "The Throwback."

"Private Worlds" At Orpheum

One of the most outstanding productions of 1935, "Private Worlds," starring Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer, opened at the Little Orpheum Theatre to-day.

The picture moves around the life of an eminent psychiatrist, played by Charles Boyer, and his assistant, played by Claudette Colbert.

The second feature, "Brewster's Millions," starring Jack Buchanan, concerns itself with the difficulties encountered by Jack Brewster, who inherits half a million pounds.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am just another foolish woman who thought she could outrage the conventions and get away with it. I was a mature woman, self-supporting, unable to marry the man I loved, because he already had a wife and family. Hence I argued it was nobody's business but my own if I chose to be his "back-street lady" rather than the wife of any other man. I even kidded myself into believing that I showed great strength of character and an almost unbelievable generosity in throwing my cap over the windmill for him.

But love under the rose did not suffice for long. I did not find the happiness that I had hoped for and I longed for marriage, but that could not be. Money, children, social position and interfering relatives prevented my lover from getting a divorce. Perhaps from wanting one. These were ugly scenes and we were finally compelled to admit that we had come to the parting of the ways. But we didn't. We went on with our rendezvous, but something had happened to our romance. The bloom was gone. Our protestations of love were a pretense. And when we finally stopped meeting, it was simply an unspoken admission of boredom, which made us feel let down after our high-flown love song.

I was left with a feeling of wasted love and years and with a disgust for the man who had not loved me enough to save me from my own weakness. And he felt resentment toward me because of his being forced to lie to his friends and family and be on bad terms with his wife. Worst of all, neither one of us had any respect for the other.

Bless you, for calling selfish weakness by its right name, and may those foolish girls who camouflage it as noble self-sacrifice for their conscience's sake listen to you. MAGDALENE.

Answer—This is a warning against the sin and folly of "illicit love," as is the experience of a girl who has followed the primrose path and found that it ended in the barrenness of total disillusionment, and I commend its perusal to all girls who are contemplating following in her footsteps.

The greatest peril that confronts every young woman who goes into the world to make her own living is the married man. He is literally the wolf in sheep's clothing who will destroy her if she doesn't watch out. Sometimes he is an out-and-out villain who never hires any but a pretty young girl, and who makes her girl depend upon her compliance with his amorous attentions. Sometimes he is just a philanderer who finds it amusing and flattering to win a girl's heart and fill it so full of love for him that she will never care for any other man.

Often a married man is drawn unintentionally into a love affair with a girl employee. He is so much more sophisticated than any other man she has ever met, so much more intelligent; he has so much more charm of manner, he is so much more considerate of her than the crude and selfish young chaps she goes with, that she falls head over heels in love with him. And he is so flattered that unless he is a Joseph he drifts into a flirtation with her just to prove to himself that he is still a devil among the women.

Nothing is easier for a girl in love than to befool herself by ascribing idealistic motives to her own conduct. She convinces herself that the married man she is enamored of is miserable with his wife whom she surfs, doesn't understand or appreciate him, and that it is her duty to comfort him. She sees herself as a heroine when she defies all the laws of God and man to go to live with him in a love nest. And she is sure that their love is particularly pure because it sprang out of the muck, and that they will be the more bound together because they are free.

And then the inevitable happens. She finds that love isn't a wild flower. It is a garden plant that flourishes best about a doornest. She begins to yearn for a respectable position in society. She finds that lovers can bore each other more than anybody else on earth. She finds, above all, that two people who have pulled each other down blame each other for their plight. And then it is all over and nothing is left to her but regrets.

Somebody has said that nothing is so over-rated as a liaison. That it has all the drawbacks of marriage and none of its advantages. And that goes double for women.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Does a man whom a child or a dog takes to make a kinder husband than one whom children and dogs dislike? F.P.B.

Answer—If there is any scientific data on this subject, I have never seen it. But there is a lot of truth in most old saws, and the general belief that children and dogs are intuitive judges of the kindly or harsh natures of people must be based on the observation of generations who have noticed the reactions of babies and dumb animals to certain types of individuals.

At any rate, it is true that children and dogs do differentiate between strangers. We have all seen little children run with outstretched arms to someone they had never seen before and snuggle against their breasts, while they would shirk with terror if another person even touched them. And we have seen dogs tawn upon one person and snap and snarl at another at sight. Whether these unreasoning creatures have some inner sense that enables them to divide which one is kind and which one is cruel, we do not know, but personally, I should beware of having close relations with anyone who did not love and who was not loved by children and dogs.

I certainly would not advise a woman to marry a man who did not like children, because he would be likely to make a hard father and one who always regarded his children as encumbrances and brats. However, O. Henry did not agree with the theory that a love of animals indicated a love for human beings. In one of his most interesting stories he tells of a man who murdered his wife and fled the country but who was finally captured through his love of dogs. The detective who makes the capture says: "Dog lover, woman killer." DOROTHY DIX.

Uncle Wiggly Stuck in the Snow

By HOWARD E. GARIS
Nurse Jane Puss-Wuzzy looked from the window of Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump bungalow one morning and said: "Oh, my! What a lot of snow!" "Snowing is it?" asked Mr. Longears, who had just finished his breakfast of young cabbage pancakes with carrot maple sugar sprinkled in the middle. "Snowing, it is, Jane!" "Indeed it is," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "It is falling fast and piling high. I see some very deep drifts." "Mercy me!" exclaimed Mrs. Longears. "The children can't go to school to-day in this deep snow." "Oh, yes they can, my dear," said Uncle Wiggly politely.

"You say that, Wiggly, because you, yourself, want to go out," said his wife. "I know you and your tricks! You think if the children can go out, even little Baby Bunty, it won't seem so bad but what you can go adventuring. But I'm not going to let you set a paw outside the bungalow in this terrible storm and I'm not going to let the children go to school either." "Oh, ma!" cried all the little bunny pups and girls as they heard her say this. "Butter—butter—butter—butter—butter!" "No, really it isn't," said Baby Bunty, the orphan. "It's fun to go to school in the snow." "But it is deep you'll get in drifts over your heads," said Nurse Jane.

"No, we won't, truly we won't," said Jane. "Look here comes the snowplow." The snowplow in Woodland near the Orange Inn Mountain where Uncle Wiggly lived was fat Mr. Twistytail, the gentleman pig. He was big and fat and strong, not so strong or as big as an elephant, of course, but quite enough. So along came Mr. Twistytail with the snowplow close to the ground, pushing the snow to one side and leaving a straight path all the way to school. The pig pushed the snow away with his big head and body. "Hurrah!" cried Baby Bunty. "Now we can go to school!" "Yes, I suppose you can," said Mrs. Longears.

"And I can go adventuring!" said Uncle Wiggly, laughing. "Although he was an old rabbit, he felt as young and jolly as a little bunny." "You I suppose you can," said Mrs. Longears. "And I can go adventuring!" said Uncle Wiggly, laughing. "Although he was an old rabbit, he felt as young and jolly as a little bunny." "You I suppose you can," said Mrs. Longears.

UNCLE WIGGLY GOES OUT
So, after the rabbit children had gone out, walking along the path the snowplow had made, Uncle Wiggly, in his fur coat, started out to look for an adventure. Instead of keeping to the path, Mr. Twistytail hopped off to one side, into a field. Soon all of a sudden, he slipped into a deep drift, went down in it almost up to his snout, and there he was stuck. He couldn't take another

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1936

Benefic aspects rule strongly to-day, according to astrologers. The stars encourage journeys, arts and inventions.

Women are subject to the most auspicious planetary influences. It is a happy wedding day that presages long partnership.

This day is lucky for entertaining and especially so for formal parties. Both young and near young should enjoy dances for romance will be prevalent under this configuration.

Workers of every class should benefit, for there is a forecast of steady employment for the skilled craftsman and the trained office man or woman.

Men and women in public office are subject to planetary conditions that are most promising. A woman is efficient. Many investigations are pressed and scandals are forestalled.

Unusually brilliant social events in New York and Washington are prognosticated for the winter. It will be profitable for florists, caterers and proprietors of fashionable hotels.

Congress will be the scene of acrimonious debates and secret plotting to overcome many oppositions. A woman member will gain great publicity.

Sudden fluctuations of the stock market may be expected through the month in which speculation will show that 1936 is forgotten.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of gain in which real estate will be a factor. Perils lurk in journeys and strangers should be received with caution.

Children born on this day probably will be keen of mind, artistic and changeable in method, but determined in purpose.

Lucetta Mott, reformer, was born on this day, 1793. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Henry Holt, author and publisher, and William D. Mead, sculptor, 1823.

Many Plants In Bloom Now

Mayor's Office on New Year's Day Decorated With 51 Varieties of Flowers and Shrubs From City's Parks

An eloquent testimony to the congenial climate of Vancouver Island was found by those who called upon the mayor and aldermen in the City Hall yesterday.

The mayor's office was beautifully decorated with fifty-one different varieties of flowers and shrubs which are blooming outdoors in the city's parks at the present time.

Among these were several species of bamboo which also thrive in Victoria.

W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, has made out a complete list of these plants. They were:

FLOWERING PLANTS

Anemone, aubretia, auricula, bugle weed, canyotuff, carnation, chrysanthemum, Christmas rose, dead nettle, forget-me-not, gazania, geranium, gold dust, harebell, marigold, megasea cordifolia, pansy, pink, polyanthus, poppy (opium), primrose, snowdrop, scabiosa, red hot poker, Siberian wallflower, stock, viola, violet, wallflower, white rock.

SHRUBS IN BLOOM

Broom, white daphne, pink daphne, rose, cross-leaved heather, Mediterranean leather, Scotch heather, spring heather, laurestinus, Oregon grape, daphne blagayana, daphne laureola, rose, diplopappus, witch hazel.

WILD PLANTS IN BLOOM

Chickweed, daisy, dandelion, groundsel, shepherd's purse.

BERRIED SHRUBS

Berberis thunbergii, cotoneaster franchetti, cotoneaster horizontalis

Many New Year Receptions Held

Mayor and City Council, Military, Naval and Church Heads "At Home"

Municipal, church, military and naval officials and the general public exchanged New Year greetings at several formal receptions yesterday, many turning out for the gatherings of which advance notice had been given.

At the City Hall the mayor and aldermen received from 10 o'clock to noon, starting the round of calls. Heads of the military and naval forces were among the 400 odd guests who called.

Commander G. C. Jones, R.C.N., and officers of the Royal Canadian Naval Barracks and of H.M.C.S. Skeena and Vancouver were at home at the naval barracks between 11 and 1 o'clock. At the same hour Brigadier D. J. MacDonald and the officers of West Point Barracks received. Civic officials returned their calls, being received at both places.

Militia headquarters were busy meanwhile. At the Armories proceedings commenced at 10 o'clock when the commanding officer and officers of the Fifth (B.C.) Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, were at home in their messroom for two hours. The officers' compatriot mess received from 10:30 o'clock to 1 o'clock.

The Canadian Scottish Regiment officers held their reception in the afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Many also attended receptions held by the Bishop-Coadjutor of Columbia, H. E. Weston and Mrs. Sexton at Bishop's Close and by Dean C. S. Quinton at the Deanery during the afternoon.

Bishop Schofield did not receive due to illness.

There was no reception at Government House.

Approximate cost of the administration of criminal justice and losses due to crime is more than $2,000,000,000 annually in the United States.

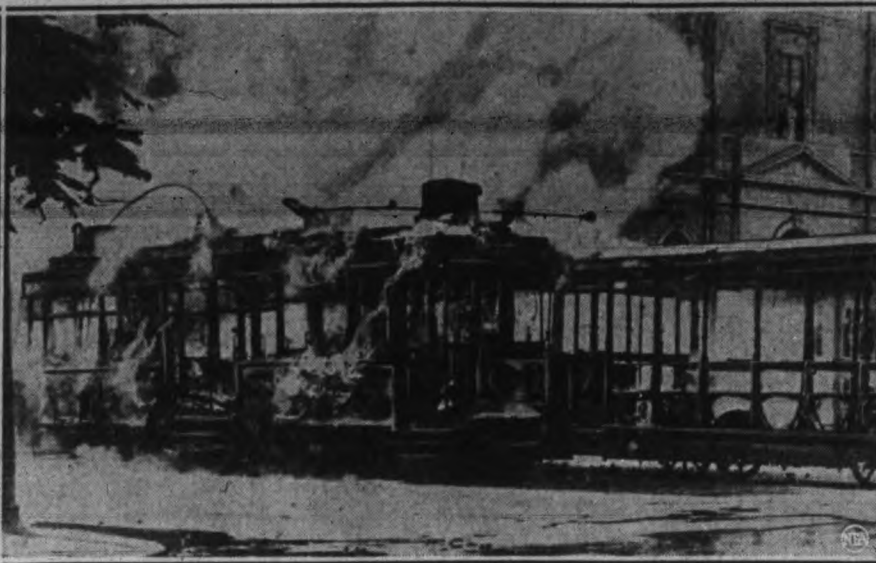

The thumb was considered the fashionable "ring finger" during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

cotoneaster microphylla, cotoneaster almonsi, crataegus oxyantha, rosa rugifolia.

FOLIAGE PLANTS, ETC.

Black bamboo, yellow bamboo, arundinaria fastuosa, arundinaria almonsi, dogwood, holly, Japanese aucuba, Oregon grape, willow.

CAIRO TRAMS BLAZE AS EGYPT FLAMES AGAINST BRITAIN

Restoration of the 1923 constitution with its promise of parliamentary elections in the immediate future smothered the flames of revolt that were fanned by the anger of Egyptian students against British activity in connection with the Italo-Ethiopian war. Before being subdued, however, the nationalists ran riot through the city, took possession of the tram lines and even set fire to the cars, pictured above as they were being consumed by flames.

NO ELECTIONS IN 1936 FORESEEN

Dominion and Provincial Polling Sates Are Clear; Municipal Fronts Are Only Ones With Contests

Canadian Press

Toronto, Jan. 2.—Ballot-wary Canadians settle down to a year of peace along the electoral front. Barring light gunning in municipal sectors and an occasional raid on a salient through beer-and-wine plebiscites, the Dominion looks forward to a political Sabbath.

The federal election is past and unless the unusual happens—no provincial government will go to the polls in 1936. They got it over with last year when new legislatures were chosen in New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Alberta and Quebec.

It will be the first year since 1918 in which no general election, Dominion or provincial, is held. The only like periods since 1871, when the four original provinces had elections, were 1877, 1880, 1884, 1888 and 1918.

RECORD IN 1886

The record for voting was set up in 1886, when all the seven provinces then in Confederation elected legislatures. Last year was well up with the leaders, recording more voting than any other since 1908, when the Dominion and five provinces balloted.

The only possibilities for provincial elections this year seem to be in Quebec, where the Taschereau majority is six in a house of ninety, and in Manitoba, which last elected in 1932.

Manitoba legislatures usually last five years, however. The Quebec situation will be clarified soon when the house meets.

Nova Scotia and British Columbia chose their present assemblies in 1933, Saskatchewan and Ontario in 1934. Yukon territory named its three-man council in 1934. The Northwest Territories are governed from Ottawa by an appointed board.

Something like 5,800,000 votes were cast in 1935 in federal and provincial elections, but not that many people voted. Multiple-member seats—where a single elector marks his ballot for two or more candidates—were possibly "pumps" for one, make it virtually impossible to calculate accurately the number of men and women who went to the polls.

IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Halifax and Queen's, N.E.I., are the only two-member seats in the House of Commons, but New Brunswick, with forty-six members elected from seventeen provincial constituencies, has four, three, two and one-member seats. The popular vote there last year was 569,105—more than the province's population, and more than three times greater than its federal vote.

Quebec was the only province with all one-member seats to hold a provincial election last year. Its popular vote was 535,145. In the federal election it was 1,146,243. Perhaps the women—not granted a vote there for the provincial house—were out in extra numbers.

BOYS WILL SEEK MORE PUBLICITY

Tuxis Group Will Broadcast News of Activities

A resolution pledging themselves to better publicize their work through newspapers and radio in order to extend and strengthen boys' work in British Columbia was unanimously adopted as members of the Thirteenth Tuxis and Older Boys' Parliament held their final sittings Saturday evening in the British Columbia Parliament Buildings.

Three bills, Parliament Act, Amendment Act and Community Act were given final reading and five resolutions were adopted before the thirteenth session was prorogued by acting Lieutenant-Governor Mayor David Leeming.

The full support of the members was acknowledged in regard to creating a greater interest in the Federal Religious Council's annual national athletic contests.

Gary Bowell, Kootenay West, moved the resolution which was adopted following the support of Gordon Rowntree, minister of programs.

Much debate ensued before a resolution was passed which urged the Provincial Boys' Work Board to adopt a mentor's handbook in accordance with the outline endorsed by the organization and programme committee of the thirteenth parliament. Gordon Rowntree, minister of programs, and Arthur Lloyd-Jones, North Okanagan, minister of organization, brought about the measure.

Arthur Wright, Victoria, government critic, moved a resolution providing for a slight change in the election material for parliament, and Bessford Menagh, North Vancouver, provincial secretary, moved that a resolution of thanks be extended to Premier Pattullo, the provincial government cabinet, Mayor David Leeming and others.

THE MARKETING BOARD SCHEME

To the Editor:—When the law-abiding farmer has delivered his produce to the board's shed he finds himself deprived of calling his goods in the open market for cash. In return he holds a receipt whose potential value at some future date is uncertain.

While his produce is held forcibly in the board's shed to get old, stale, sprout and whatnot, the vegetable bootleggers and wholesalers are reaping the profit from the higher price level set by the board in the wholesale and retail market. All these gentlemen must do is dodge a lawless government inspector who is probably trying as keenly to dodge them in his hopeless task of enforcing a wholly uncontrollable control act.

The vegetable bootlegger, consisting of the farmers lacking in loyalty to their fellow farmers, are not only seeking the higher price, but also the needed cash, not forthcoming in dealing with the board. This situation is wholly to be blamed on the board.

In holding a quantity of produce from the market the board is indirectly assisting the vegetable bootlegger obtain higher cash prices at the expense of his fellow law-abiding farmer. Besides, in holding his produce until it is old and stale, he is further discriminating against the law-abiding farmer, as goods sold in that condition will not even bring the price set by the board.

The wholesaler, no matter what his or-mis price the board sets, is sure of his set minimum profit; besides, he has profitable opportunities to buy on the side from the cash-needing producer, thus he can always keep his stores replenished without going to the government shed. As a matter of fact, it is to his advantage to keep away from it.

The Marketing Control Act was partly brought into existence with the little praiseworthy object of creating an agency with enough undefined

NICE QUIET SALE

ROTTEN RUBBERS. Well, they're not exactly rotten, but what the storekeeper calls SUBSTANDARDS, commonly called BUM. However, like other storekeepers, we get hooked. Some say they're O.K., some say they're N.G. However, if you like to take a chance at these crazy prices, it's your funeral, not ours, because the terms are NO EXCHANGES—NO REFUNDS
